Modi, Shah in BJP's first list of 195 candidates

4 dropped in Delhi; Sushma's daughter gets in; Rajeev Chandrasekhar fielded from T'puram

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh were among the 195 candidates the BJP announced in its first list for the Lok Sabha polls. Modi, Shah, and Singh will seek repeat mandates from Varanasi, Gandhinagar and Lucknow, respectively.

There was a major shake-up in the Delhi list as the party dropped four of its five sitting MPs. The axe fell on Ramesh Bidhuri, Parvesh Verma, Meenakshi Lekhi and Harsh Vardhan, but Manoj Tiwari got to contest from North East Delhi. The party fielded Bansuri Swaraj, daughter of late BJP leader Sushma Swaraj from New Delhi, Kamaljeet Sehrawat from West Delhi, MLA Ramvir Singh Bidhuri from South Delhi, Praveen Khadelwal from Chandni Chowk. Also, Sadhvi Pragya Thakur was dropped from Bhopal.

The most interesting candidature was of Union minister Rajeev Chandrasekhar from Thiruvananthapuram, where Shashi Tharoor is the sitting Congress MP. Contrary to speculation, the BJP stayed with Smriti Irani from Amethi. The first list has 47 candidates, who are under 50 years of age, besides 28 are women. BJP national general secretary Vinod Tawade said 57 of the 195 candidates belong to OBC, while 27 to the SC and 18 to the ST communities.

Anil Antony — son of Congress stalwart A K Antony — has been fielded from Pathanamithitta in Kerala. Union minister V Muraleedharan will enter the fray from Attingal. Former Madhya Pradesh CM Shivraj Singh Chauhan will enter the fray from Vidisha, while Jyotiraditya Scindia will contest from Guna. In all, 34 Union ministers figure on the first list. Bhojpuri singer Pawan Singh has been fielded from Asansol to take on TMC MP Shatrughan Sinha. The list included Hema Malini, Ravi Kishan and Dinesh Nerahua.

KARNATAKA BJP CANDIDATES' LIST BY NEXT WEEK

The BJP is expected to announce the names of its candidates from Karnataka for the Lok Sabha polls within a week. The Karnataka unit will meet on Sunday to shortlist names. "We had assigned two observers to each Lok Sabha constituency, who have interacted with local leaders and come up with three to five names of probable candidates," BJP state president BY Vijayendra said.

Cops trace cafe bomber, CCB to investigate case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A day after the bomb blast at The Rameshwaram Cafe in the city, police officers investigating the case have zeroed in on the suspect aged between 30 and 35 after analysing the CCTV footage.

The case has been handed over to the Central Crime Branch (CCB) for investigation under ACP Naveen Kulkarni.

In the footage, the alleged bomber is seen wearing a shirt, black trousers and black shoes. Carrying a black backpack and holding a cell phone with his left hand, the suspect entered the cafe at 11.34 am and left by 11.50 am.

The police suspect that the alleged bomber might be part of an organised gang that had done a recce of the place earlier. The suspect is seen ordering food at the cash counter of the cafe by paying cash. After eating rava idlis, he is seen hurriedly leaving the cafe after placing the bag containing the IED near the wash basin closet.

According to sources, the accused had taken enough precautions to conceal his identity by wearing a cap and a mask. He is said to have set the timer of the IED at 12.55 pm so that he had enough time to leave the city and target more people as it was lunch time.

The investigating officers are probing all angles, including a possible business rivalry. P5

Tripartite pact to end Tripura tribal row

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

THE Centre on Saturday signed an agreement with the Tripura government and the state's principal opposition party, the TIPRA Motha, towards finding a solution to the problems faced by the state's indigenous tribal population–Tiprasa.

The pact was signed in New Delhi after a series of meetings between the Centre, TIPRA Motha and other stakeholders. It was agreed to resolve all issues relating to history, land and political rights, economic development, identity, culture and language of the indigenous people.

It was also agreed to form a joint working group to work out and implement the mutually-agreed points in a time-bound manner. Till then, all stakeholders will refrain from resorting to any form of protest or agitation in order to maintain a conducive atmosphere.

Union home minister Amit Shah, who was present during the signing of the agreement, said it was a historic day for Tripura. "With this agreement, we have honoured history, corrected mistakes in history and accepted the realities of today," Shah said. Chief Minister Manik Saha was also present when the tripartite agreement was signed. "Nobody can change history but we can always move forward by learning from mistakes and keeping in mind today's realities. I am happy that TIPRA Motha and all tribal parties played a constructive role in this direction," he said.

Saturday's signing of the agreement followed TIPRA Motha chief Pradyot Kishore Manikya Debbarma's fast-unto-death stir. He was giving a speech on Wednesday during a stir demanding "Greater Tipraland" state, when he got a call from Delhi inviting him for talks.

Kalavathi interacts with other Koraga women, as part of her thesis - 'Koraga PVTG - Socio-Cultural Study'

STRIFE TO STRIVE

Kalavathi beats the odds to become the second woman from the marginalised Koraga community to receive a doctorate

PRAKASH SAMAGA @ Udupi

FOR some, the fear of failure isn't an adversity, and a lack of opportunity opens the window for that very opportunity to persevere and shine. Kalavathi's story is the epitome of going against all odds and rising to the podium in the race of life.

A woman from the particularly vulnerable tribal group (PVGT) - the Koragas - Kalavathi hails from Karje village in Brahmavara taluk of Udupi district. She recently received a PhD from Kannada University, Hampi, becoming only the second woman from the marginalised community to achieve this feat. Last year, Sabitha Gundmi, assistant professor, department of sociology, Mangalore University, had received a PhD, emerging as the first Koraga woman to receive a doctoral degree.

Life lessons

Kalavathi's life journey was never a bed of roses. She was even jailed once, for participating in the 'Kalathhur Bhoomi Horata' -- a Koraga movement, demanding government land for the community, a decade ago. Highlighting her struggles, Kalavathi tells TNSE that the situation at home was never conducive for her to continue education. "My father, late Gumbala Koraga, succumbed to cancer on the day I had to write my SSLC examination. So I had to appear for re-examination and completed my SSLC. My family members were helpless when I expressed my interest in continuing my studies. However, my sister, brother-in-law and mother did support me when I finally decided to go ahead with my plan to study further. In fact, I even worked at a factory for two years, before I could continue my education. Then I joined PUC, passing my Second PU in 2004 in first class. As I did not get a government seat in a DEd course, I again had to work in a cashew factory. Later, with the support of Palli Gokul Das, former president of the Federation of Koraga Development Associations, I enrolled myself in a BSW course at the School of Social Work, Roshni Nilaya, Mangaluru. Life has been a tumultuous journey for me, yet I am a woman who never gives up," expresses Kalavathi.

So far, four members of the Koraga community have received PhDs. They include Babu Koraga from Belthangady, Dakshina Kannada district, who was the first to receive a doctorate in 2011. As mentioned earlier, Sabitha received it last year, followed by her husband, Dinakar Kenjoor, who received his PhD early this year. Kalavathi is the fourth person from the community to receive a PhD.

Kalavathi did her primary education in Sooralu, and completed high school in Kokkarne. She pursued her PU education from St Mary's PU College, Shirva, before pursuing and completing her BSW in 2008. She married Shailendra Kumar of Mysuru in 2013. "My husband supported me when I wanted to complete my MA and PhD, as well," she says.

Kalavathi did her MA from Kannada University, Hampi, before pursuing her PhD with the help of her guide -- Dr KM Metry, HOD, Department of Studies and Research in Sociology, Kannada University. Her PhD thesis was on 'Koraga PVTG - Socio-Cultural Study'.

Empathy and social change drove Kalavathi since childhood, and her participation in community development activities furthered her zeal to vie for an academic future. "I was one among 29 people, who were jailed during the Kalathhur Bhoomi Horata," she recalls. After her BSW course in 2008, she went to work with various social organisations in Mysuru. Today, she is happy to have received a PhD through her hardwork and dedication.

Dr Metry informs TNSE that Kalavathi could pursue her PhD through help from the national fellowship she received from the Ministry of Tribal Affairs, Government of India. Thanks to the fellowship, there was no financial burden on her, while she pursued her PhD. Being a tribal woman herself, her research methodology delved deep into the life of her fellow Koraga people. She could present a comprehensive thesis based on complete information, he says. Kalavathi successfully cleared the viva voce for PhD in November 2023, and was awarded the doctorate the following month.

Confidence to conquer English

Spoken English programme introduced in select schools has empowered students to speak the language without fear...

PRAKASH SAMAGA @ Udupi

WHILE it is true that English is just a language and not a measure of intelligence, knowing the language opens a window of endless opportunities. For the students of several government-run and aided Kannada medium schools in Uttara Kannada, Udupi, and Dakshina Kannada districts, a novel initiative has helped them speak the language fluently.

For the students of 291 government and aided primary schools in Brahmavara, Bantwal, Sullia, and Bhatkal and eight government high schools in Brahmavara, the earlier setback of lack of motivation to converse in English has been defeated – thanks to the spoken English classes and the English Fest initiative.

The brain behind this initiative is 43-year-old Uday Kota, block resource person, Brahmavar. Kota, who is the programme's mentor, has put in meticulous efforts to make this initiative a success. He contacted the interested government and aided school teachers in Brahmavara in 2021 in Brahmavara block. Then teachers from 25 government schools showed interest in this initiative and they were trained by Kota. Soon, Spoken English Classes and the English Fest initiative were introduced in those 25 schools on a pilot basis.

The saga did not stop there and the enthusiasm started to spread. In the 2022-23 academic year, the number of schools conducting these activities rose to 45. This academic year (2023-24), as many as 291 government and aided primary schools and eight government high schools have introduced this initiative.

Kota told The New Sunday Express that initially, he thought of this only for schools in Brahmavara block. But demand by teachers of the other districts motivated him to take this initiative to schools there.

In Dakshina Kannada, school teachers in Bantwal and Sullia taluks have been trained by Kota. In Uttara Kannada, teachers in schools from Bhatkal taluk have been trained by him. The initiative has been successfully introduced in the schools there too.

(Top) Teachers and students celebrate 'English Fest' at a school in Udupi district. Uday Kota mentors government higher primary school students in the district | EXPRESS

Teachers from schools in Belthangady taluk have also expressed their wish to implement this project and the orientation programme will begin soon for them.

Kota said that he has received the cooperation of teachers, officials of the education department and the parents as well.

Elaborating on the initiative, Kota said a formal inauguration programme is held at the beginning of every academic year in the schools. The teachers are told to conduct school assemblies in English. Even the parents'-teachers' meetings are conducted in English. Students speak English during various school programmes. Once a week, 'English Day' is celebrated. Science experiments are explained in the English language. Students are also motivated to interview local achievers in English.

Students are made to visit public places where they will collect information and take notes in English. Teachers also create opportunities for students during the programmes in the schools wherein students are asked to deliver speeches in English. English teaching and learning materials are displayed in the exhibition conducted once a year. Schools then celebrate 'Spoken English Fest' at the end of the academic year. Through all these activities, students not only do away with the fear of speaking in English but also show full confidence.

On how he is executing this initiative throughout the academic year, Kota said that he created separate WhatsApp groups for each education block and there the teachers are provided with innovative learning ideas. He then conducts the 'Teacher Interaction Programme' every Sunday. In this, all the teachers are made to learn how to involve themselves in activities that enable students to learn English with ease. Kota says that he is proud that students who have strong bonds of their mother tongue Kannada, are easily learning communication skills in English as well. In all, 20,755 students are benefitting from this initiative in various schools in this region.

Kota adds that he is happy that what he started as a launching pad for the students in Brahmvara is spreading to neighbouring taluks and districts as well. He also said that recently teachers from as many as 50 schools in Honnavara block have decided to implement this initiative and the orientation programme for teachers has been already scheduled.

Shreshta, a Class 6 student at Government Higher Primary School, Saralebettu, Brahmavara block, says that apart from enabling her to speak fluent English, the initiative has also helped her build confidence. ''The annual English Fest has reduced my stage fear too," she adds.

Urban housing projects to help end slums: DyCM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister, and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar, on Saturday, said that food, housing, health and education are the primary focus of the Congress-led Karnataka government.

Speaking at an event organised to distribute homes to the homeless at KR Puram, he said, "It was Indira Gandhi who brought the concept of free houses for the poor in the country. The Housing Department has given an additional grant of Rs 5 lakh as many people expressed inability to pay the amount under the Rajiv Gandhi Housing scheme."

"While we are giving all the support, the BJP government at the Centre, has levied GST on houses for the poor. How can the poor pay a GST of Rs 1.26 lakh?," he questioned. "Our government has decided to end slums in the cities, and hence, we have added the urban housing projects in this year's budget as well. It was the Congress party that started the schemes to give rice, land and houses to the poor. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is simply copying our welfare schemes," he added.

As the BJP and JDS have ridiculed the state government on its 'guarantee scheme', Shivakumar said,

"Let them say whatever they want. The state government will continue to provide welfare schemes including, giving free houses. Even some BJP leaders are vouching for our guarantee schemes," said Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar.

He also praised Housing Minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan for his work, and stated that he is working hard to help the poor, and lauded Hubballi MLA Prasad Abbaiah, who is the Chairman of Karnataka Slum Development Corporation, for speeding up the process and handing over slum homes to beneficiaries. Former Minister and KR Puram MLA Byrathi Basavaraj and officials of the slum development board and Karnataka housing department were present at the event.

HC: Child care full-time job, hubby must pay wife

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

REJECTING the contention of the husband who made his wife quit her lecturer's post to take care of their children, that she is qualified and can earn a living, after she claimed maintenance, the Karnataka High Court directed the husband to pay Rs 36,000 per month as maintenance to the wife.

Justice M Nagaprasanna directed the husband, who works as manager at Canara Bank, to pay Rs 36,000 per month, modifying the order passed by the sessions court in June 2023 at Anekal, to pay Rs 18,000. The 41-year-old woman had sought Rs 36,000 for herself and the two children.

The court said maintenance has to be awarded to the wife and children, commensurate to the cost of living or if they continued living with the husband. The sessions court had undoubtedly erred in directing maintenance of only Rs 18,000 per month, on the grounds put forth by the husband that the wife was qualified and can earn a living.

Terming the husband's contention that the wife is lazing around and not earning as "preposterous", the court observed that it is a trite law that merely because the wife is qualified, she is barred from seeking any maintenance. Every case has to be considered on merit. The wife, as homemaker and mother, works indefatigably round the clock. Taking care of children is a full-time job, the court said.

The husband also contended that the wife was not dutiful towards him, and was quarrelsome, and that his job was inconsistent.

Terming it misleading and mischievous, the court said the husband is an employee at Canara Bank, working in the cadre of manager, and it was not a job that can be taken away, like pink slips issued by private employers. The court observed that a dutiful mother is on a higher pedestal than a dutiful wife. On the birth of the first child, the woman was asked to leave her job. When the second child was born, the wife completely quit employment to take care of the children.

All was well till the relationship turned sour. Once maintenance was sought, the husband alleged that the wife was not willing to work and earn money, though she was qualified, and wanted to live on maintenance paid by the husband.

Tankers, treated water to keep BBMP parks green this summer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE horticultural wing of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) held a meeting to devise a plan to chalk out a strategy to take care of 1,000-odd parks under its limits to tide over the harsh summer months till the end of May. The meeting involved the horticulture superintendent, supervisor, inspectors, and other officials.

According to officials, separate water tankers will be deployed and borewells are being cleaned in a few parks. Additional tractors will be engaged to water the saplings at least once daily to ensure they survive. Speaking to TNSE, MR Chandrashekhar, Deputy Director, BBMP Horticulture Department said, "Horticulture Department officials in every zone have been instructed to service the borewells at parks. Apart from using tractors with a capacity of 6,000 litres, the Palike will also use treated water."

The officials have also held talks with BWSSB and treated water will be purchased from the board.

The official also added that as groundwater has plummeted in several of its parks, the Palike is working on installing 1,000 percolation pits in over 110 parks. By next summer, the official added that these parks will have sufficient water as the groundwater table is likely to shoot up.

Govt will take over water tankers to ease crisis in city: DKS

Bengaluru: To alleviate the water crisis in Bengaluru, the state government will be taking over the private water tankers who supply water from borewells, said Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, while addressing the media at his residence here on Saturday. "There is a massive shortage of water in Bengaluru, and BBMP and BWSSB officials are meeting daily, to come up with effective solutions to handle the crisis," he assured. He added that Bengaluru is facing one of its worst water crises even before peak summer, and to tackle the same, all private tankers have been directed to register with the government by March 7. Expressing confidence that the government will relieve the water crisis, Shivakumar said that a meeting has been called for on Monday, to discuss the matter and find concrete solutions. He also added that a grant of Rs 10 crore has been released from his department, to all city constituencies, to address the crisis.

LEAD THE WAY

Shibulal: Public schools need improvement

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOR children to get access to quality education as a fundamental right, public schools in the country have to improve; and for schools to improve, the education leaders have to own and lead the process of improvement, said SD Shibulal, Co-Founder of Infosys and Founder of ShikshaLokam.

He was speaking at the InvokED 3.0–a Global Dialogue on Education Leadership organised by his foundation at the National Institute of Advanced Studies on March 1 and 2 which aims to shape an education movement so that all children in India can dream, learn and succeed.

"Public schools need continuous support and resources to improve. However, achieving this vision requires collective action from all engaged in the learning outcomes. ShikshaLokam was founded to effectuate a virtuous cycle of leadership development, building momentum for this movement towards education equity through its programmes, solutions and digital infrastructure. Today, our reach spans across 27 Indian states and UTs, with over 5,70,000 education leaders in more than a million schools across the nation," Shibulal added.

This year's edition focused on how collective leadership and efforts can power India's journey towards equity in education. With over 32 distinguished speakers in various panel discussions, interactive sessions and exchange of creative ideas, the goal was to provide a 2030 roadmap for education in India, especially in the K-12 bracket.

'GUARANTEES WILL NOT BANKRUPT KARNATAKA'

Despite a 20% hike in excise duty the prices of cheap liquor from where 95% of revenue comes from in Karnataka, is lower compared to neighbouring states

LK Atheeq, Additional Chief Secretary to the CM

IN his longest budget speech of 3.15 hours, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who holds the finance portfolio, presented the state budget for the year 2024-25, with an outlay of Rs 3,71,383 crore. The borrowing for this year has crossed Rs 1 lakh crore, which is the highest ever. Senior IAS officer (1991 batch), LK Atheeq, Additional Chief Secretary to the Chief Minister and also ACS Finance, who earlier served as senior adviser to World Bank and also as Joint Secretary Prime Minister's office during Manmohan Singh's tenure, explains the preparations of the Budget right from the beginning, priorities, guarantee scheme implementation, challenges and more. Excerpts:

Can you explain the exercise of Budget preparations?
The actual budget preparation in the finance department starts in November. The committed expenditures include actual and committed expenditures. The actual expenditures include salaries, loan interest payments, administrative expenses and pensions. These are some things that have to be paid. The committed expenditures cannot be done away with, like scholarships and social security pensions. After all these are calculated, estimates are given to the departments, under which they are told to make proposals. Once they come back, we also do an analysis of all salaries etc, to make sure there are adequate provisions. Then the CM (also the finance minister) starts reviewing the whole budget from January. We have a series of meetings with the departments, who propose their wish lists. We look at them during the first round of consultation meetings with the CM, and the concerned ministers and their department officials. Some good proposals are included. During the second round of discussions, which happens in January-end, we start finalising the schemes. From January 20 onwards, we start to write the budget speech.

So is it final then?
The budget speech is the main document which comes out. We do a series of re-readings. That time, we also take a look at the political components and things from the manifesto that can be incorporated. We do consultations with stakeholders. The speech goes for printing, the night before the budget presentation is done.

How do you prioritise what has to be included, as each department makes its proposals?
Largely, some of its commitments are already made as each department has its own size. So, little bit of reprioritization does happen and this depends on the outlook of the ruling government, political mandate, the CM and their priorities. Like CM Siddaramaiah focuses on welfare schemes heavily. So we look at the budgets of social welfare, agriculture and farming sectors very carefully.

You have worked with the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). How was the experience?
PMO is much more organised compared to the CMO. The contact with the public was also less. It was great to work with Prime Minister Manmohan Singh. The budget of the Centre is in the domain of the finance ministry and we (PMO) would not get into budget-making as the PM used to tell us not to get into their kitchen.

As the Karnataka government introduced five guarantees, how challenging was it to prepare the budget?
The outlay we set aside for the guarantees is rather large that no other budget has ever experienced it. Naturally, we had constraints while allocating over Rs 50,000 crore for the guarantees which is almost 20 per cent of the total outlay of Rs 3.71 lakh crore. We have committed expenditure for the salaries, pensions, and subsidies for the irrigation pump set among others. So we prioritised winding up certain schemes similar to each other and pruning some of the schemes which were there for several years and saved money to fund the guarantees. We increased the revenue target. We have increased the guidance value of the properties which had not been revised for a long time. We have streamlined the stamp collection. We also have a plan to collect a little more revenue from the mining sector. The only tax we can increase is on liquor and there are limits.

The government is under flak as it has been funding the guarantees by increasing the liquor prices. How do you explain?
Despite a 20 per cent hike in excise duty, the prices of cheap liquor from where 95 per cent of revenue comes from in Karnataka is lower compared to the neighbouring states. Goa is an exception. So, to say that guarantees were funded by increasing the price of alcohol is not correct as we hiked (the prices) because it was underpriced. In the budget, we have proposed to rationalise the prices and reduce the taxes on premium liquor. Because our premium liquor was 60 to 100 per cent more expensive than in the other states, people tend to buy it from other states.

Most of the budgets in the past were revenue surplus budgets but this government has presented a revenue deficit budget. What will be the impact in the long run?
There are three fiscal responsibility parameters: It should be a revenue surplus budget; fiscal deficit should be within 3% of the GSDP (Gross State Domestic Product); and accumulated liabilities should not exceed 25% of the GSDP. We have always been within these limits. Only during COVID-19, we presented a revenue deficit budget. Last year, it was a deficit budget again. This time we had to present a deficit budget as we had to accommodate guarantee schemes and the revenue deficit increased to Rs. 26,000 crore. As per the medium-term fiscal policy, we anticipate a revenue deficit budget next year also but it will be a revenue surplus thereafter. I would say that as long as our fiscal deficit is within 3% of the GSDP, we are still fiscally prudent. As we are spending on human expenditure through guarantees, I would not worry too much about the temporary deficit.

What are the changes proposed in Excise?
We had set a target of Rs 36,000 crore under Excise revenue. As this was a drought year, it impacted the sales to some extent. Going forward, we are planning to bring some changes in Excise. So far, except in the premium segment, liquor prices in the state have been cheaper. We have planned to reduce prices of premium liquor which are available at cheaper prices in neighbouring states. It's the rationalization of slabs so that the sales of premium liquor increase in the state. Also, we will be facilitating the smooth processing of licensing and their renewal. We are looking at increasing revenue from licensing and renewal fees by bringing in transparency.

Does the Central budget or budgets of other states influence the state budget?
We look at the Central budget as it fixes the devolution and earmarks the grants-in-aid. However, the Karnataka budget is increasingly self-financed because state-owned revenue accounts for nearly 79 per cent of our expenditure.

What do you have to say about the CM complaining that the State pays Rs 100 as tax to the centre, only receiving back Rs 12?
Both the Central and state governments levy taxes, with certain taxes such as GST being levied by the central government but collected by the states, while others like Income Tax and Corporation Tax are both levied and collected by the central government. To determine the proportions for division within each state, a finance commission is established every five years which plays a crucial role in balancing tax collections and distributions. However, the amount collected from a state may not necessarily be fully returned to it. The commission considers various factors including population, forest cover, representation of minority communities, geographical area, and poverty levels. The 15th commission notably saw certain southern Indian states, particularly Karnataka, receiving a substantial dip. Previously, Karnataka received 4.7% of the total divisible pool, but this share has now decreased to 3.61%. The state with the highest per capita income tops the list, followed by others accordingly. Weightage is inversely proportional to the distance from the top, implying that states closer to the top are considered relatively richer and consequently receive a lower share. In this arrangement, Karnataka stands second, with Haryana at the top. This situation arose because Karnataka's GSDP was revised in 2015, primarily due to the contributions of software equipment from Bengaluru. Despite being the IT capital, Karnataka does not receive significant revenue from GST or Income Tax, as these sectors benefit from tax exemptions. Apart from this, previously, the Finance Commission used 1971 population data for distribution purposes. However, later it shifted to using 2011 data. In Karnataka, between 1971 and 2011, the population growth rates in the western and southern regions have been relatively lower. This can be attributed to falling fertility rates and effective population control measures. Consequently, states with less effective population control measures have benefited from this shift in criteria. Moving forward, Karnataka plans to approach the 16th Commission to request a more balanced approach, considering additional factors beyond just population data.

EXPRESS Dialogues

It is being said that guarantees will make the government go bankrupt and that freebies are bad. What is your take on this?
I don't think guarantees will bankrupt Karnataka. This is the second budget that we have presented with the schemes and despite it being a revenue deficit budget, it is not disastrous. It is not desirable, however, sometimes it's okay as long as the money is useful. We believe this is a useful way. Karnataka is a growing state and we should aspire to do more. Increase GST collections, industrialise, create more jobs and earn more revenue. That should be used to help uplift the bottom line of 50% of the population. Organisations such as UNICEF, World Bank and IMF studies show that if you're able to give purchasing power in the hands of the poor and relatively poor, it helps to boost the economy. I believe it's not a wasteful expenditure as it's going into the right hands. We don't believe it's a freebie and the freebie concept is also debatable. We are practising an unconditional cash transfer in the state offering almost Rs 4500 per family, per month. There is no evidence that this money will be wrongly used. We are very consciously giving it to women which helps better rights in the family. Shakti scheme has also made women get up and go, without seeking permission from either the husband or son.

There are guarantees plus this year we have a drought. Is it a double whammy?
The drought year certainly has affected us. But thanks to good rains for the past 2-3 years and some good work done in water conservation, lake rejuvenation and forestation, we haven't had that serious problem with drinking water. It has affected the economy a little bit and had an impact on our revenues. It has also increased our drought expenditure—we had to drill more borewells and spend more on drinking water.

Is it advisable to rely on various Public-Private Partnership (PPP) models, including those proposed for education?
While Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds directed towards education are encouraged, it is not our primary investment source. Public investment remains our mainstay, with private contributions being appreciated but not relied upon as the sole source of funding. When it comes to Public-Private Partnerships (PPP), they are particularly targeted towards urban areas due to their dense populations. Additionally, we are seeking private investments in the energy sector, given Karnataka's leadership in renewable energy, with 63% of the state's electricity sourced from renewable resources.

What is your perspective on Bengaluru's traffic?
Bengaluru has reached its saturation point, prompting the government to explore options beyond the city. We are offering concessions for setting up industries at Mangaluru, Mysuru, Hubballi-Dharwad and Belagavi as the next industrial hubs and not for Bengaluru. Additionally, we are focusing on surrounding areas and towns near Bengaluru, including Ramanagara, Nelamangala, Doddaballapur, Chikkabalapur, Anekal, Bidadi, Kanakapura, and Devanahalli.

What do you have to say about the recent Janaspanda grievance meeting that happened at Vidhana Soudha?
The success of Janaspandana is not a reflection of the efficiency of the government. If these were addressed at the taluk or district level, why would people come to Bengaluru? I would say that it is not a good idea that so many people come to Bengaluru. We found out that 70 per cent of the grievances come from the revenue department. Within the revenue department, 70 percent of issues are related to surveys. We have a shortage of surveyors. If we address this issue, fewer people will come. This is a long-term issue. To address this immediately, the CM is going to hold Janaspandana in various regions - Kalaburagi, Belagavi and Mysuru.

Panchayats and Urban Local Bodies are not self-reliant and they depend on the government, what can be done?
I think both Panchayats and urban local bodies need to become more self-reliant. The local body should increase their revenue sources. For the collection of taxes, a lot of initiatives have been taken up. Online tax collection has been introduced where one can pay taxes through debit card, credit card and UPI. Similarly, including BBMP should become self-reliant wherever it is possible.

What do you say about fancy expenditures that will affect the state's financial health?
I don't think this expenditure will make a big impact.

Govt staff should declare assets, liabilities online, suggests panel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IF everything goes to plan, State government employees will have to declare details of their assets and liabilities in public domain.

The Karnataka Administrative Reforms Commission-2, headed by former chief secretary TM Vijaya Bhaskar, submitted its seventh and last report to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Saturday.

The commission recommended that all Group A, B and C employees of the state government, and employees working in public sector Boards and Corporations, may place statements of their assets and liabilities on their department websites, for public information,

"The Government of India places immovable property returns submitted by IAS officers in public domain. On similar lines, state government employees should produce their details," it stated. The commission recommended that Niyukthi software, developed by the e-Governance department for issuing transfer orders of IAS and KAS officers, be used for other government staff.

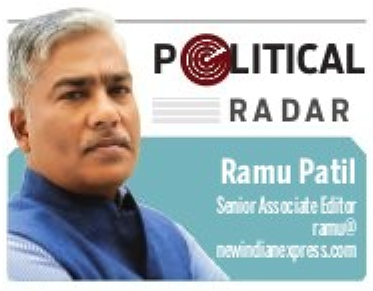
In order to encourage paperless offices, the commission recommended that the secretariat be directed to return letters and proposals sent by subordinate officers on paper, except in unavoidable cases, with instructions that they be sent on e-Office.

It also said, "A fortnight prior to Gandhi Jayanti every year may be declared for Swachhata Abhiyan in all government, boards, corporations, local bodies and university offices for identifying and disposing of old files, reports, furniture, electronic items, vehicle spare parts etc lying in offices and office compounds."

The commission also recommended that all newly recruited staffers be compulsorily sent for an orientation or induction course.

MANDYA, THE FIRST TEST FOR NDA PARTNERS



POLITICAL RADAR

Ramu Patil
Senior Associate Editor
ramu@newindianexpress.com

SUMALATHA Ambareesh, actor-turned-politician, defeated then Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil, also an actor-turned-politician, in Mandya in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls. It was among the high-profile contests in Karnataka.

This time again, all eyes are on Mandya — the sugar bowl in the Vokkaliga heartland of Old Mysuru region — even before the parties announce their candidates. In many ways, the constituency reflects the changed political equations in the region, the challenges the alliance partners face, and their commitment to join forces, from grassroots to top leadership, to fight the assertive Congress.

While the Grand Old Party is preparing to go the whole hog in Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's home region, intense behind-the-scenes efforts to finalize the seat-sharing appear to be reaching the final stages in the NDA.

The JDS is confident of getting Mandya, Hassan and Kolar, while it is also said to be hoping to get one more seat. Sources in the party indicate the possibility of Dr CN Manjunath, well-known cardiologist and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda's son-in-law, contesting as BJP candidate from Bengaluru Rural LS seat. The unorthodox poll strategy may be an effort to take on the Congress in its strong seat represented by DK Shivakumar's brother DK Suresh. It was the only seat Congress had won in the last elections.

For the BJP-JDS alliance, among all the seats, Mandya may be the most difficult one to decide. Whatever the decision may be, it is going to be a tough call. As an independent candidate backed by the BJP, Sumalatha had defeated JDS in a vitriolic election. Their animosity continued till the regional party became part of the NDA recently.

In the last elections, local Congress leaders had backed Sumalatha to defeat the JDS that had swept the assembly polls in the district, a year before the 2019 LS elections. Now, if fault lines erupt in the alliance, Congress will exploit the situation to its advantage.

While seat-sharing is decided at the top level, the big challenge lies in ensuring they work together wholeheartedly in the constituency, and not allow local equations to derail big strategies. In Tumakuru, former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, who had contested as JDS-Congress alliance candidate, lost with a narrow margin to BJP in the last elections. Differences among local leaders of alliance partners undid the plan, despite the high-profile candidate and a grand strategy.

While giving final touches to seat-sharing and strategy, BJP-JDS leaders will certainly be looking at the factors that led to the dismal performance of the Congress-JDS alliance in the last elections. They won just one seat each.

Now, BJP sees Mandya as a gateway to Old Mysuru region, that remains a chink in its armour. The party has been trying to make inroads into the Congress-JDS bastion. In Mandya, it has not won assembly or LS polls, except the 2019 bypoll in KR Pete when BS Yediyurappa was CM. Now, the party will be looking beyond the LS polls and making all efforts to get a foothold in the region.

If one goes by Sumalatha's confidence in retaining the seat and her emphasis on strengthening BJP in the district, the central leadership may have given her an indication. The JDS is also showing the same degree of confidence and feels it is a done deal. After Hassan, Mandya is the most important seat for the regional party, although in the 2023 assembly elections, the party won just one of seven assembly segments.

Kumaraswamy was certainly sending out a message to leaders within his party as well as those in alliance when he wore a saffron shawl and took the lead in the BJP's protest against the government's decision not to allow a saffron flag to be hoisted from a flagpost in Keragodu village in the district. Also, in the just-concluded budget session of the state legislature, the regional party fully joined hands with the BJP in taking on the government.

Party insiders believe the LS polls will be crucial for JDS' future, which is the reason they have fully aligned with the BJP to fight the Congress. The regional party seems to perceive an imminent threat from the Congress under the Siddaramaiah-Shivakumar leadership.

Although the JDS lost the recent Rajya Sabha polls, it did well in retaining all its 19 MLAs together. In a way, it was a setback for the BJP as two of its legislators went against the party's directive. While one cross-voted, another remained absent. It remains to be seen what action the BJP takes against its lawmakers, even as it treads carefully with its alliance partner.

Rajya Sabha polls: BJP issues notice to Somashekar, Hebbar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BJP chief whip Doddanagouda H Patil on Saturday issued show-cause notice to former ministers ST Somashekar (Yeshwanthpur MLA), and Shivaram Hebbar (Yellapur MLA) seeking their explanation for going against the party's decision in the Rajya Sabha elections held on February 27. While Somashekar cross-voted for the Congress in the RS polls, Hebbar had abstained from the voting.

The duo has been given a time of five days to reply to the notice and the notice warns of action against them for defection and disqualification under Schedule 10 of the Constitution.

Somashekar had defended his move to vote for Congress candidate Ajay Maken saying he voted as per his conscience. Hebbar, a day later, attributed his absence to his ill health.

Meanwhile, senior BJP leaders Prakash Shesharaghavachar and Mohan Vishwa have been appointed as the party's state spokespersons. State BJP president BY Vijayendra also appointed NV Phanish and Bhojaraja Karoodi as the state's joint coordinators for the cells.

Five other injured, all of whom were part of the team lunch, were admitted to Vydehi Institute Of Medical Sciences and Research Centre for observation due to blisters on their faces and legs. The sixth person reportedly received outpatient treatment and left.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru/Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Saturday clarified that there is no connection between the Bengaluru cafe blast case and the Mangaluru cooker explosion case. He was addressing reporters in Mysuru.

However, in contrast, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar told reporters in Bengaluru that there might be a link between the cafe blast in Bengaluru and the Mangaluru cooker explosion case.

"Looks like there are some similarities. People of Bengaluru need not worry," he said.

Siddaramaiah said that he is confident of the police nabbing the accused in the cafe blast case soon.

Refuting opposition's allegation that his government is appeasing the minorities, Siddaramaiah said, "There were bomb blasts in the state during the BJP rule. Did the blasts happen to please the minorities then? I condemn such statements. I appeal to the BJP not to politicise the matter." He said that his government is yet to receive a report from the forensic laboratory in connection with the recent pro-Pakistan sloganeering in Vidhana Soudha. Stringent action will be taken against the accused, he added.

Earlier in the day, Siddaramaiah visited the blast site in Bengaluru where senior police officers briefed him about the progress of the probe. He also visited the injured being treated in hospitals and spoke to them. The CM later held a meeting with senior police officers. He instructed them to make use of technology while investigating the blast case and step up vigil in crowded areas of Bengaluru. He also instructed the officers to take stringent action against those who spread fake news on social media and try to disturb peace in society.

Suspect came on BMTC bus, travel history traced

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE suspect in Friday's Rameshwaram Cafe bomb blast travelled in a Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) Volvo bus. The police are verifying the CCTV camera footage provided by BMTC to check the travel history of the accused.

It is said that the suspect travelled to the restaurant carrying the bag in which he carried the bomb and has been captured in the CCTV camera installed in the BMTC bus. Addressing the media on Saturday, Karnataka Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy said that the suspect travelled in a BMTC bus. "We have shared the CCTV camera footage that was requested by the police based on the information that the suspect travelled in a BMTC bus to the cafe. The police have to investigate and our job is to support the police by providing the details sought by them and not to interfere in their interrogation," he said.

The bus in which the suspect travelled is said to be route number '500 F' operating between Central Silk Board and Kadugodi covering CMRIT College, Kundalahalli Colony, ITPL bus stops and others. He is said to have travelled back after planting the bomb in the BMTC bus and the police are verifying the footage shared by BMTC.

The Rameshwaram Cafe in Indiranagar bustling with customers as usual | ALLEN EGENUSE J

A day after the bomb blast at The Rameshwaram Cafe that sent shock waves across the IT capital Bengaluru, people were seen enjoying their Saturdays as they normally would, from breakfast spots to ice cream parlours, the streets were bustling with people outside Chinnaswamy Stadium and at various other eateries.

"The hotel is operating as usual, with security operating all throughout the operating hours from 5 am to 1 am each day. All outlets of the eatery consist of 5-8 guards who oversee the premises during operational hours," said Raghunath, manager of Rameshwaram Cafe, Rajajinagar branch.

"Customers are arriving as usual, with a larger crowd today because it is a Saturday. College students, bank employees, and others working nearby will be here until 3.30 pm each day for lunch," a staff member from MTR, St Marks Road branch said. He added that despite having multiple outlets, only the St Marks Road branch operates seven days a week.

People were observed lining up outside the Central Tiffin Room (CTR) in Malleswaram, eagerly awaiting their turn to enjoy the renowned 'Benne dosa'. Despite the restaurant opening at 4pm, a queue had already lined up by 4.15 pm.

Apart from the renowned Darshinis, ice cream parlours including Corner House and others were also bustling with people. merrily consuming their ice creams and milkshakes in the sweltering afternoon.

However, PC Rao, President of the Bruhat Bengaluru Hotels Association, said that the association will convene a meeting with police officials, member hotels, and other stakeholders to discuss protocols for maintaining vigilance in hotels.

Speaking to TNIE, he said, "We will collaborate with experts and police officials to proactively prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future. Recognizing that such occurrences can happen anywhere, not just at restaurants, we will establish standard operating procedures (SOPs). These SOPs will encompass guidelines regarding the operation of all restaurants and eateries, ensuring comprehensive and detailed procedures are put in place."

NIA, FSL teams collect evidence from spot

MEANWHILE, officers from NIA and FSL collected evidence from the blast site. A battery, detonator and wires were found at the spot. ACP Kulkarni, who will oversee further investigations, had arrested five suspected terrorists in Hebbal police limits in July last. Sophisticated arms and ammunition and explosives were recovered from them.

It is said that the investigating officers are questioning four suspects in connection with the cafe blast case at an undisclosed location. Eight CCB teams have been formed to nab the accused. A search is on for the accused in Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh.

Meanwhile, security has been tightened at prominent places.

Explosion at cafe, a trial for serial blasts?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE BJP on Saturday expressed strong suspicion that the blast at Rameshwaram Cafe is part of a larger scheme of things, and a conspiracy by terrorists to conduct serial blasts. Expressing concern over the turn of events, senior BJP leader C T Ravi alleged that the incident looked like a trial run for serial bomb blasts by terrorists. "Since the Congress came to power in the state, the NIA has arrested as many as 21 suspects," he said.

"There is a big cell behind this incident. On one side, miscreants chant pro-Pakistan slogans at Vidhana Soudha. There is a big conspiracy behind all these incidents and it must be referred to the NIA for an in-depth probe as it would establish a terror link on an international level," said former CM Basavaraj Bommai.

Opposition leader R Ashoka alleged that the police is incompetent to conduct the probe, hence the government should hand over the case to NIA as early as possible, before the accused escapes abroad. "There is nothing wrong in handing over the case to NIA and seeking the Centre's support," he said.

Meanwhile, BJP on 'X' took a dig at Parameshwara for allegedly giving a clean chit to the accused by saying the incident cannot be called a terrorist act. "He has no moral right to continue in office and has to resign," the post said.

Bogus FSL report

Though CM Siddaramaiah has been claiming that the government is yet to receive the FSL report on alleged pro-Pakistan slogans in Vidhana Soudha, the BJP alleged that the government has resorted to a delay to create a bogus report. "FSL report has arrived and we have confirmed information that the 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogan was raised. The suspicion of preparing a bogus FSL report to protect the traitors is disturbing," Ashoka alleged.

Don't make K'taka a terror destination: Joshi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hubballi

UNION Minister for Parliamentary Affairs, Coal and Mines Pralhad Joshi slammed the CM Siddaramaiah-led government over the bomb blast in Bengaluru and charged the Congress with making the state a safe haven for Islamic fundamentalists and extremists.

Speaking to the media here on Saturday, Joshi lashed out at Siddaramaiah and DCM DK Shivakumar and held them responsible for the Bengaluru blast and said not acting tough against those who raised pro-Pakistan slogans would encourage such elements.

Hailing the action of the PM Narendra Modi government against terrorism, Hoshi said 90 per cent of the terror activities have come down in the country. He, however, expressed concern over inaction of the state government against these forces. "In the Congress rule today, Karnataka is becoming a safe place for terrorists and extremists to carry out attacks. Don't make Karnataka a terror destination just for your vote bank. Let Siddaramaiah first rein in such elements," he said.

STUDENT DEATH: KERALA GUV SUSPENDS VET VARSITY V-C

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

IN a major embarrassment to the LDF government, Governor Arif Mohammed Khan has suspended Kerala Veterinary and Animal Sciences University vice-chancellor Dr M R Saseendranath in connection with the death of J S Sidharth, a second year student of the veterinary college at Pookode in Wayanad district. The governor initiated a probe into the incident and wrote to the High Court registrar, seeking a sitting judge's service for a judicial probe.

The suspension order issued by the governor on Saturday also stated that P C Saseendran -- a former professor with the Kerala Veterinary and Animal Sciences University (KVASU) -- will replace Saseendranath, as officiating vice-chancellor.

The communiqué from the governor's secretariat, Raj Bhavan, issued by chief secretary to the governor/chancellor Davendra Kumar Dhodawat, said that Saseendran shall exercise the powers and perform the duties of the vice-chancellor with immediate effect until further orders.

The significant move from the governor came at a time when the LDF government had not taken any steps to book the college authorities including the vice-chancellor and the dean who had come under flak from various quarters. Governor Khan used his power as the chancellor, wherein he also issued an urgent exemplary action and ordered a detailed enquiry into the matter invoking the provisions of section 9 (9) of KVASU Act, 2010.

Police use water cannon to disperse protesting students | EXPRESS

Khan alleged that there has been a serious lapse from the side of the vice-chancellor. Unleashing his tirade against the PFI-SFI nexus rampant on various college campuses, the governor claimed that the college authorities did not do anything.

"Despite Sidharth being inflicted with injuries under the guise of ragging, the college authorities did not act. The college hostels have become the den of activities of PFI-SFI students who are hand in glove. I'm saying this as per the police reports which I received. Sidharth had not got any food or water for 24 hours," Khan told reporters in Thiruvananthapuram.

He had visited Sidharth's house at Nedumangad in Thiruvananthapuram on Thursday, spending time with his parents, T Jayaprakash and M R Sheeba. The governor had also sought a report from the college authorities after realising that "cruelty" had happened on the Pookode campus. He had directed the KVASU dean to convene an urgent meeting with all department heads, faculty, student advisors and assistant wardens on February 22.

Seat-sharing drags on as VCK keen on securing three seats from DMK

S KUMARESAN @Chennai

SEAT-sharing talks in the DMK alliance seem to be facing some headwinds as Congress and Viduthalai Chiruthaigal Katchi (VCK) are demanding more seats than what they got in the last Lok Sabha polls, sources said. But both the parties, amid a stalemate in discussions, told reports on Saturday that a seat-sharing pact would be signed with the DMK soon. Rumour of displeasure among VCK leaders was rife after its scheduled talks with the DMK's seat-sharing committee did not happen on Saturday. VCK functionaries, led by its founder Thol Thirumavalavan, were instead huddled in a separate meeting. The allies, however, insisted that the parleys with the Dravidian major have been smooth.

"Who said they (DMK) are unwilling to allot seats to us? The talks with the DMK are smooth and friendly. We will soon finalise the numbers," TN Congress chief K Selvaperunthagai told reporters in Chennai. When asked to specify the number of seats offered to the party, Selvaperunthagai shot back saying all the 40 Lok Sabha seats (including the lone Puducherry constituency) in Tamil Nadu were Congress seats and the party would fight the upcoming poll in that spirit. Asked if the DMK declined to allot the specific number sought by the Congress, he said his party's high command was in touch with the DMK leadership and the numbers would be finalised soon.

Speaking in a similar vein, VCK chief Thol Thirumavalavan said his party could not resume the second round of negotiations with the DMK on Saturday due to its high-level committee meeting which discussed numerous issues related to the Lok Sabha poll.

"We could not keep up our appointment this afternoon," he said. Regarding VCK's demand for three Lok Sabha seats, including a general constituency seat, Thirumavalavan said, "It is our right to seek more seats, and our demand is correct. We will persist with our demands until the pact with the DMK is finalised. We know our strengths in terms of organisational structure and ideological stance."

RUDRESH CASE

Key accused nabbed in Mumbai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Friday arrested a Popular Front of India (PFI) member who was the key conspirator in the 2016 RSS leader R Rudresh murder case in Bengaluru.

Ghouse Nayazi, who was absconding, was arrested by an NIA team at Mumbai International Airport on his arrival from Dar-es-Salaam, Tanzania, where the NIA team was waiting for him on receiving credible inputs about the absconding accused.

Rudresh, a prominent RSS leader of Shivajinagar, was hacked to death by four members of the now banned PFI, on October 16, 2016. The NIA investigation in the case had revealed that the murder was "part of a larger conspiracy hatched by Ghouse, president of SDPI Hebbal Assembly Constituency, and one Asim Sheriff," stated the NIA in an official release on Saturday.

"Ghouse and Sheriff had motivated the other four accused to kill Rudresh with an intention to strike terror among members of the RSS and society. The killers were persuaded to believe that the fight against the RSS was a 'holy war'," the agency added. With Ghouse's arrest, all the accused in the case have been arrested. The trial against the remaining accused persons is continuing in the NIA Special Court, Bengaluru.

A catholic priest manhandled an elderly couple at Pariyalthadka village in Dakshina Kannada district. The incident which was caught on the CCTV camera of the victim's house has gone viral on social media leading to public outrage.

Fr Nelson Olivera, a Parish priest of Christ the King Church at Manela in Pariyalthadka in Bantwal taluk, allegedly assaulted Gregory and Philomena couple when he visited their house for 'house blessing' on February 29.

In the video, Fr Olivera is seen talking to the couple at the gate after which he drags Gregory towards the house by holding his collar. The priest kicks Philomena who came to her husband's rescue. An unidentified person who had accompanied the priest was seen helping the accused as he manhandled the couple.

The couple have no children and were living alone. After the incident, the couple took treatment in a hospital. An FIR has been registered at Vittal police station.

Meanwhile, acting swiftly, Diocese of Mangalore removed the priest and appointed another one in his place. "The diocese will cooperate with the law enforcing authorities and apart from the enquiry initiated by the government departments, the diocese of Mangalore will also initiate canonical enquiries for establishing the truth of the facts in order to take adequate future course of action," it said.

INDIA'S ECONOMY: KNOWN KNOWNS AND KNOWN UNKNOWNS

A N old maxim states that people, in general, are quick to believe that which they wish to be true. The truism—attributed to Julius Caesar—plays out in India's public discourse rather predictably every few months. The episodes of ricocheting rhetoric with surround sound effects follow the release of data on the state of the economy.

Typically, in the intensely polarised political amphitheatre, every episode finds the believers singing the rah-rah raag and the sceptical atheists argue in disbelief. The agnostic folks are left querying the experiential for answers.

On Thursday, India and the world at large was informed that the economy will end the year with a GDP growth of 7.6 percent—up from 7.3 percent pronounced on January 5. The superlative performance produced what is colloquially termed as sticker shock. After all, till as late as in December 2023, the RBI's Survey of Professional Forecasters "assigned highest probability to real GDP growth in the wider range 6.0-6.9 percent for 2023-24".

The upgrade in growth follows a flurry of revisions for previous years and quarters—growth for 2022-23 was scaled down and revised upwards for the current year's first three quarters—including the revelation that economy grew at 8.4 percent between October and December 2023. There has been much lather generated on the 8.4 percent GDP growth, while the gross value added or GVA for the period was 6.5 percent. The explanation for the lower GVA is explained by a lower spend on subsidies. (The CSO defines GDP= GVA + taxes – subsidies.) Interestingly, the GVA has slid sequentially for three quarters from 8.2 percent to 6.5 percent and probably deserves a more elaborate explanation.

Debates on the state of the economy are often waylaid by conspiracy theories and lost in minutiae of data. It is manifest that the economy has performed better than expected and forecasted. This is visible in the data on expenditure on infrastructure, in the rise in revenues both in GST and direct taxes. The GDP estimates also reveal a robust growth in manufacturing and construction—again validated by growth in earnings and, of course, the stellar rise of the stock indices.

That said, not everything is hunky dory and there is reason for the rah-rah brigade to temper the tempo. The estimates also signal a slowdown in velocity and momentum of growth—the end-of-year projection 7.6 percent suggests GDP growth in the fourth quarter would be sub-6 percent. As with other elements of social order, economic growth too is governed by the law of averages. Is this dip an aberration, a statistical effect, or is there a structural issue that must be addressed to sustain growth?

Data suggests not everyone is joining the party. The fact that private consumption is growing at barely 3 percent even though the GDP is surging at 7.6 percent should be a cause for concern. To appreciate the significance of this data point, it is useful to note that consumption accounts for 55.6 percent of the GDP. The question which begs an answer is whether the slide in consumption is a seasonal issue or a fundamental fall in the ability to spend?

The context is critical. Government intervention is designed to mitigate suffering and create room in household budgets. Consumption is stalling despite an aggressive expansion of welfare—food rations to over 810 million, healthcare to over 500 million, rural jobs to over 160 million, besides cash transfers, provision of houses and consumables. The impact has been visible in the sales of entry-level goods and earnings of consumer goods and durable makers—indeed, in the run up to the interim budget, industry chambers argued for the expansion of welfare benefits. It has been argued that India's growth story is investment-led, but those who argue so would know that there is a statute of limitations and the consequences are visible in the neighbourhood.

The other worrisome data point in the GDP estimates concerns two of India's largest employers—services, which account for a bulk of new jobs, and agriculture, which employs over 45 percent of the workforce. Agriculture, which contracted in the third quarter, may end the year with a growth of 0.7 percent. The service sector, which accounts for a major share of the economy, has lagged and is stalling well below historic levels of double-digit growth. Beyond the data, there are vignettes from the political economy worthy of attention—of 48 lakh youth applying for 60,000 jobs, the consistency of paper leak scams across states, the steep drop in placement of students at engineering and management colleges.

There are immediate issues and then there are long-term issues which call for attention. IT and IT services are among the largest employers in India after security service agencies. Last fortnight, NVidia chief Jensen Huang declared AI will kill coding. Add the accelerated adoption of generative AI reflected in investments nearing $200 billion by global companies. India's challenges could well be its opportunities.

India's economy is poised at the intersection of known knowns and known unknowns. The data presented by the advance estimate is a useful compass. There is a need for a debate on the trajectory of economic growth, the challenges reflected by the data, the underlying conditions that hinder growth—and the mapping of who is gaining and who is lagging. Remember, momentum is mass x velocity.

POWER & POLITICS

I F Prime Minister Narendra Modi is Mufasa, the Lion King, the state chief ministers are his loyal Simbas. As he embarks on his eight-week-long Vote Yatra of his kingdom, the BJP is expecting the state chief ministers to extend his aura. As the chief ministers are the second engine for the BJP in each state, the hauling capacity of each one of them will decide the final numbers. Of the 12 BJP chief ministers, the six from Gujarat, Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh and Assam will be leading their states in the Lok Sabha elections for the first time. Maharashtra will also go to the polls under the leadership of BJP ally Eknath Shinde. The seven states account for 158 seats. The BJP and its ally Shiv Sena won 142 from the states in 2019.

Undoubtedly, the prime minister is combatively canvassing for a record term propelled by his personality rather than his party; yet, he is monitoring the regional leaders, including the chief ministers chosen directly by him. While he is concentrating on his road shows and massively-attended public meetings coupled with a high-voltage media blitz, the mobilisation of the voters has been left to state units. All the chief ministers would be tested on three parameters—performance, connectivity and acceptability. Most of them are from the RSS and its student wing, the Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad, and are expected to beat the double incumbency of the decade-old rule at the Centre and in their own states.

Maharashtra, with 48 seats, is top of the mind for BJP leaders. It is going to play a decisive role in Modi's magic target of '400 paar abki baar' for the NDA. In 2019, out of a total of 48 seats, the BJP won 23 and its ally Shiv Sena 18 seats under the leadership of first-time Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, who is now the deputy chief minister. Though it was more a mandate in favour of the prime minister, the local leadership fought as a cohesive team.

Now the state is led by the rebel Shiv Sena leader Shinde. An unforgiving leader by nature, Shinde, 60, is considered a lightweight when it comes to cadre management and grassroots workers. While the BJP is confident about its repeat performance, it is the Shiv Sena under Shinde which is causing headaches. Any fall in its tally of 18 will mount pressure on the BJP to gain more seats in other states. Shinde appears to be the slower part of the double-engine sarkar.

Madhya Pradesh, with 29 seats, is equally important for the prime minister to achieve his target of 370 seats for the BJP. The BJP won 28 of the 29 seats even while the Congress was in power in the state. But soon after winning the state election in December last year, Modi took a calculated risk by replacing old warhorse Shivraj Chouhan with the relatively less known Mohan Yadav, 58, as the state's 19th chief minister. The companionable, clean and affable OBC leader was chosen not because he is a Yadav, but because he wasn't part of any faction. Moreover, he keeps a low profile and has been carrying forward the Hindutva agenda with fierce determination. With the eclipse of the BJP's tall leaders and the Congress ailing, Yadav doesn't face any threat to his leadership and is better placed to convert Modi's mesmerising appeal into votes.

Gujarat, with 26 seats, is a diehard saffron state. The BJP has been in power for almost three decades. It delivered all the 26 seats to the BJP when Vijay Rupani was chief minister. Bhupinder Rajnikant Patel, 61, a civil engineer, has been the 17th chief minister since 2021. An unpretentious Patel has managed the state without any controversies either in the government or in the organisation. Gujarat and Modi are made for each other. Patel cannot afford to lose a single seat in a state which has given India its most powerful and popular prime minister.

Rajasthan, with 25 seats, is perhaps the weakest state for the BJP. During 2019, it won 24 seats in the name of Modi even while the wily Congress Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot was ruling. But now the BJP has catapulted a first-time MLA, Bhajan Lal Sharma, 56, as the state's 14th chief minister. A former ABVP activist, the lacklustre Sharma hasn't shown any administrative or political skills so far. Though he has been provided with two experienced and relatively more popular deputy chief ministers, Sharma faces the uphill task of a strong Congress in the state. He hasn't led the party in any election. Nor has he held any significant party posts. While Modi may be able to move the voters in his favour by his charismatic posturing, Sharma will have to accelerate the speed of the premier engine.

Assam, with 14 seats, is the BJP's gateway to the Northeast. The BJP won nine seats in 2019. Now it is going to fight the elections under the leadership of a former Congressman. The belligerent Himanta Biswa Sarma, 55, the 15th chief minister since 2021, is the BJP's ace troubleshooter. His state may be small in numbers, but the BJP is heavily dependent on him for making and breaking opposition parties. By his deeds and words, he has turned out to be more ardently Hindu than the Hindutva party could have imagined. He has put in place many legislative measures which have taken away all special privileges of minority communities. He is at the forefront of pushing illegal immigrants out of the state and saffronising the entire Northeast.

Chhattisgarh, with 11 seats, is going to polls under the first-time chief minister Vishnu Deo Sai, 60, an approachable team leader. As the fourth chief minister of Chhattisgarh, Sai is the first tribal leader to lead the state. He is the most experienced political leader to be chosen to lead the state, having held various positions like Union minister, party president and even a state minister. Soon after taking over, he began with a bang by implementing various welfare and developmental schemes along with taking forward the Hindutva agenda. He is expected to deliver all the 11 seats as against the nine the party won in 2019.

Uttarakhand, with just five seats, is equally important for the BJP as it is also being led by a first-time chief minister. Pushkar Singh Dhami, a diminutive and soft-spoken former RSS worker, has acquired the image of a leader with a mission. Handpicked by the prime minister even after he lost the assembly elections, he is the first chief minister in the country to take legislative measures for the implementation of a Uniform Civil Code.

The prime minister doesn't need allies or aides to win his third term. Modi is the man, the prime medium, the message and the marketer. The chief ministers are merely his messengers.

SLOW RETURN OF THE INDIAN JOINT FAMILY

OPINION

J OINT families living in palatial houses is now a stuff of fiction. A few generations back, it was the norm. In fact, the big houses were built keeping in mind the growing family, which it was assumed would live together. One or two members may step out and settle faraway, but most people stuck together. This was especially true for business families, as they were tied both personally and professionally.

Post independence, migration to urban India and then to the western world became a trend. So people flooded to cities like Delhi and Mumbai in search of livelihood. Those who went to study abroad grabbed the opportunities available in the developed world. The result was the scattering of families across the world, making us global families. It led to deserted villages and the slow death of large family homes.

Parallelly, with active family planning campaigns, the average size of the Indian family kept going down. Today, we have a substantial number of families with no children or just one child. The number of people who chose to stay unmarried shot up. So, as families, we not just spread ourselves thin geographically, but also shrunk in size. Extreme focus on career and professional growth came in the way of family bonding and size, if I may say.

It all works well while the days are good. But, come bad days in terms of diseases, accidents, bereavements, and we all need our immediate families around. We saw great stress during the pandemic when many children could not perform the last rites of parents or be there with them. Triggered by these events or advancement of age, we all felt the need of being close to our family. We realised the need to balance our independence with family ties. In the meantime, our homes have shrunk with the family size. Houses have given way to apartments that come with limited space. More than space, they are designed not to provide privacy to multiple generations living together, leading to everyday conflicts that everyone wants to avoid.

However, the silver lining I see is in how the Indian families are tackling this situation. I see parents and children, and even siblings buying or renting apartments in the same building or in close vicinity. This gives them the advantage of being with each other in joy and sorrow, celebrating the festivals together. At the same time, you are independent enough to live your life the way you want. The frequency of meeting each other may depend on your mutual relationship but you live with the assurance that you are within an arm's reach of each other. Children are the biggest gainers, with cousins and grandparents there to pamper them.

Has the real estate industry noticed this trend and started pitching group buying options to families? I am not sure. I assume they would soon. I also see families returning to one hub to be close to each other. So, a south Indian family may have a hub in Bengaluru or Chennai, and a north Indian one in Delhi or Jaipur. It makes sense to build a community living within the families.

Many real estate companies offer community-based living for retirement homes, where they promise that food will be as per the generic requirement of the community. They do not advertise it much, probably due to a fear of backlash. Can this be a return of community-based living, where you live with your extended family or people from same community? Probably.

Indian families have shrunk and their houses have become smaller. But lately, some families are moving to live closer again. The children are the biggest gainers, as they get more pampered

The advantages would be cultural and emotional. We all like to be surrounded by our own people, with whom we share genes in some way. There is a comfort in relationships you inherit and do not require a fresh emotional investment and trust-building gestation.

The disadvantage would be not being as much exposed to multiple cultures. However, as I said in my column on diabetes, a lot of our lifestyle excesses are coming from the fact that we are in a constant festival and celebration mode by trying to be a part of everyone's festivities. It derails all our dietary regimes.

With the return of family or community-based real estate, as and when it takes a U-turn from its copy-paste approach, I also foresee a return of local produce. It could be in terms of local vegetable gardens or gaushalas. It may sound laughable in the era of fast deliveries and industrialised products, but health consciousness is bound to bring this back in our life sooner or later. Remember, it took just a few years for millets to be back on our plates.

As it looks to me, the great Indian joint family is slowly, and maybe steadily, making a comeback in a new avatar. They may not live together in one big haveli or share the same kitchen, but may own a bunch of houses next to each other. An option to work from home in the knowledge economy is also going to push in this direction. It would have happened slowly and organically, but the pandemic gave it a two-way push. One, it made us want to live with the family; two, it made work from home highly acceptable. We saw during the pandemic many knowledge workers moving back to their native places, leaving big cities. If they could work for 2-3 years from home, at least a percentage of them can continue to do it for most of their professional lives.

We also see family entrepreneurship coming back in a small way. People are co-founding companies with family members. It's an interesting time to see the great Indian joint family coming a full circle.

Positive sign

BJP leaders calling Rahul Gandhi incompetent shows their insecurity and weakness, as Gandhi always questions their failures and promises made at elections. Even before the assembly elections in Telangana, many leaders of the then state ruling party criticised Revanth Reddy, including for his height; but he is the chief minister now. So a strong leader like Gandhi always takes criticism as a sign of popularity among the people, which makes his opponents nervous.

TMC has turned schemes into scam, says Modi

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

ADDRESSING a rally in Nadia's Krishnanagar for the second consecutive day on Saturday, Prime Minister Narenda Modi changed his line of attack from the Sandeshkhali uproar allegedly triggered by Trinamool Congress' atrocities to the ruling party's corruption issue in Bengal. "The TMC has turned all the schemes for the poor into scams in Bengal," he said.

Taking a jibe at Ma Mati Manush coined by Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee in 2009 to derail the Left Front's 34-year-regime, Modi said that the Trinamool Congress (TMC) is actually Noe Tu Main Corruption.

Accusing the Bengal's ruling party of fostering an environment where "crime and corruption have thrived", Modi asserted that the TMC has become synonymous with "atrocities" and "betrayal".

"For TMC, priority is not the development of Bengal, but corruption, nepotism and betrayal. TMC wants to keep the people of Bengal poor so that it can continue the game of politics," Modi said.

He lambasted the TMC hours after meeting Mamata at Raj Bhaban on Friday, which the Bengal CM had described as a protocol meet.

Referring to the AIIMS in Kalyani, Modi accused the Mamata government of creating obstructions. "When we wanted to set up the first healthcare facility in Bengal, there was non-cooperation from the state government. It delayed giving the required permissions. The TMC-led government obstructed many schemes for the poor. It does not work for the betterment of underprivileged people. The TMC has turned all the schemes into scams," he said.

Though the LS constituency, located along India-Bangladesh border, has a sizable number of migrant voters, Modi did not talk about implementation of the Citizenship Amendment Act, a promise that had attracted Matuas, a Hindu religious sect comprising refugees from Bangladesh, in favour of the saffron camp in the 2019 general elections.

With Nitish in tow, PM slams dynasty politics

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday launched a frontal attack on the Congress-RJD combine in Bihar, accusing it of using Dalits and other deprived sections of society as a "shield to justify dynastic politics and corruption".

Addressing two separate rallies in Bihar's Begusarai and Aurangabad districts, Modi made a veiled attack on the alleged land-for-job scam involving Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) chief and former railway minister Lalu Prasad and his family.

Prasad was railway minister during the UPA government-I.

He said the whole of Bihar knew how resources were looted in the name of Railways in the last 10 years before NDA came to power in 2014. "Today, the modernisation of railways is being discussed all over the world. Railways is being electrified rapidly and railway platforms were being decked up like airports," he remarked.

He alleged that Congress-RJD combine was guilty of "betrayal of social justice" and that dynastic politics was harmful for the talent and welfare of youths.

"True social justice is achieved by 'santustikaran' and not by 'tushtikaran', it is achieved by saturation," the PM said, adding that he only recognises social justice in such forms.

Modi said that Bihar has suffered the sting of nepotism and the losses caused by it for long. Family dynasties and social justice are diametrically opposed to each other, he observed.

He took a jibe at top leaders of Opposition parties, stating that 'dynasts' were afraid to participate in the upcoming Lok Sabha polls and were instead taking the Rajya Sabha route to enter Parliament. Modi did not take names, but his remark came in the backdrop of former Congress president Sonia Gandhi opting for Rajya Sabha and getting elected from Rajasthan unopposed after announcing that she would not contest Lok Sabha polls from Amethi due to health issues.

The land of Sita

Modi said that Ram Lalla's consecration was in Ayodhya, but it was celebrated the most in Bihar, the land of Sita. People of the state sent gifts to express their joy, he said.

ASTRONAUT-DESIGNATES

THE FOUR FORCES ON THE ANTRIKSH YATRI PANKH

BALA CHAUHAN

ON February 27, Prime Minister Narendra Modi revealed names of the four astronaut-designates — all Indian Air Force fighter pilots — currently undergoing rigorous training for India's first-ever human space flight mission Gaganyaan, which will reach an altitude of 400 km above earth for a three-day duration in 2025. The astronauts will return with a planned water landing off India's coast.

Addressing the audience at the Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre at Thumba, Modi introduced to the country Group Captains Prasanth Balakrishnan Nair (47), Angad Pratap (41), Ajit Krishnan (41), and Wing Commander Shubhanshu Shukla (38). He bestowed upon them the prestigious 'Antriksh Yatri Pankh' (Astronaut Wings). Modi hailed them as "four shaktis (forces)" who would carry the aspirations of India's 1.4 billion people into space.

The announcement resonated India's first manned space journey 40 years ago. Former IAF pilot, (then Squadron Leader) Rakesh Sharma, who was part of the Soviet Union's Soyuz T-11 expedition launched on April 2, 1984, travelled to space as part of its Intercosmos programme. The four astronaut-designates were trained at the Yuri Gagarin Cosmonaut Training Center in Star City, 30 km north of Moscow, where Sharma underwent training four decades ago.

They were made to undergo survival training in harsh terrain — snow, deserts, water — and in inhospitable weather conditions to ensure they can survive an emergency landing in hostile terrains.

After the 13-month long intensive training, which included a series of gruelling physical, medical and psychological tests, the four astronaut-designates will proceed to NASA's Johnson Space Centre in Texas, ISRO chairman, S Somanath had said earlier.

The selection of the four was an extremely stringent and confidential process on the basis of their annual confidential records, flying proficiency, medical, physical and psychological fitness and resilience. The four were selected at the IAF's Institute of Aerospace Medicine, Bengaluru.

Training in ground support, orbital mechanisms, weightlessness, simulators, life support systems and use of toilets are part of the regimen of the four airmen.

Yoga is an important component of physical and mental training. The body is expected to handle the rigours of space travel. Training in weightlessness is critical because astronauts have to handle high G-forces experienced during spaceflight — one of the main reasons why fighter pilots are preferred for space travel as they often handle high G Force scenarios.

NEWSMAKER

The Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, announced that the four are pursuing Master of Technology at the institute and undergoing training at the Indian Space Research Organisation. The prerequisites for Gaganyaan mission include development of many critical technologies including human-rated launch vehicle for carrying crew safely to space, life support system to provide an earth-like environment to crew in space, crew emergency escape provision and evolving crew management aspects for training, recovery and rehabilitation of crew.

The four are alumni of the prestigious National Defence Academy. Group Captain Nair is from Kerala. He is a recipient of the 'Sword of Honour' — an honour given to the best all-round cadet — at the Air Force Academy. He was commissioned in the IAF fighter stream in December 1998. Nair is a Cat A flying instructor and a test pilot with approximately 3,000 hours of flying experience. He has flown a variety of aircraft, including Su-30 MKI, MiG-21, MiG-29, Hawk, Dornier and An-32. He is also an alumnus of the United States Staff College and a DS at DSSC, Wellington and FIS, Tambaram. He has commanded a premier fighter Su-30 Squadron.

Customs stops ship with load for Pak N-programme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

SECURITY agencies at Mumbai's Nhava Sheva port intercepted and confiscated a consignment destined for Karachi from China, citing dual-use implications for Pakistan's nuclear and ballistic missile programmes, officials said on Saturday.

Acting on intelligence, customs officials halted the Malta-flagged merchant ship, CMA CGM Attila, bound for Karachi on January 23. Upon inspection, they discovered a Computer Numerical Control (CNC) machine, manufactured by an Italian company known for its precision and efficiency, controlled by a computer system.

A team from the Defence Research and Development Organisation confirmed the potential usage of the consignment in Pakistan's nuclear endeavours, particularly in manufacturing crucial components for missile development.

CNC machines are regulated under the Wassenaar Arrangement, an international arms control regime aimed at curbing the spread of items with dual civilian and military applications, in which India is an active participant. North Korea has employed similar machines in its nuclear programme.

Further investigation unveiled discrepancies in the shipping details, suggesting possible evasion tactics to conceal the true recipients. This incident echoes past seizures of dual-use military-grade items transhipped from China to Pakistan, sparking concerns over illicit procurement.

The ongoing probe seeks to determine if the suspected entities receiving these items are linked to the Defence Science and Technology Organisation, responsible for Pakistan's defence research and development.

Despite documentation indicating Shanghai JXE Global Logistics as the consigner and Pakistan Wings of Sialkot as the consignee, investigation revealed that the consignment, weighing 22,180 kg, was shipped by Taiyuan Mining Import and Export and is intended for Cosmos Engineering in Pakistan.

Indian port officials have seized dual-use military-grade items shipped from China to Pakistan earlier as well.

Cosmos Engineering, a Pakistani defence supplier, has been under scrutiny since March 2022, when Italian-made thermoelectric instruments were intercepted at Nhava Sheva port.

Bilkis Bano convict moves SC against order on cancelling remission

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

RADHESHYAM Bhagwandas Shah, one of the convicts in the Bilkis Bano gangrape case, has moved the Supreme Court claiming that the January 8 verdict of cancelling his remission and the re-imprisonment of all eleven convicts was judicially improper, a copy of the petition accessed by this newspaper revealed.

Shah's plea said that since the two-judge bench led by Justices BV Nagarathna and Ujjal Bhuyan disagreed with another two-judge bench (led by Justice Rastogi), the matter ought to have been referred to a larger bench.

The convict had filed the plea through his lawyer Rishi Malhotra and stated that it was incorrect for the two-judge bench to overrule a judgment rendered by another bench, namely Justices Ajay Rastogi and Vikram Nath.

Malhotra said that he had urged the apex court to reconsider the convict's plea for premature release. He has also sought bail for Shah until the court can clarify and order as to which of the two-judge bench judgments would prevail.

"The January 8 judgment pronounced by Justices Nagarathna and Bhuyan was not only judicial impropriety but creates uncertainty and chaos as to which precedence of law has to be applied in future," Shah's petition read.

In its verdict on January 8, the apex court quashed the Gujarat government's order granting remission to 11 convicts, sentenced to life term for the gangrape of Bilkis Bano during the 2002 Gujarat communal riots and directed all the 11 convicts to surrender by January 21.

Excoriating the Gujarat government, the apex court said it "usurped" the power of the Maharashtra government to grant remission to the convicts.

Shah further said that Justice Nagarathna, while terming the May 2022 verdict obtained by (him) a "fraud" played on the court, sought a declaration that this should be a nullity and non est in law.

The Gujarat government had granted remission to all the convicts on August 15, 2022, following the top court's May 2022 judgment that an application of remission should be considered in line with the policy of the state where the crime was committed and not where the trial was held.

The contention

The petition filed by Radheshyam Bhagwandas Shah said that since the two-judge bench led by Justices BV Nagarathna and Ujjal Bhuyan disagreed with another two-judge bench (led by Justice Rastogi), the matter ought to have been referred to a larger bench. The plea stated that it was incorrect for the two-judge bench to overrule a judgment rendered by another bench, namely Justices Ajay Rastogi and Vikram Nath.

NIA apprehends accused in Nizamabad PFI case

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) has arrested a leader of the banned Popular Front of India, who is an accused in the Nizamabad PFI case, which pertains to anti-India conspiracy by the outfit to carry out acts of terror, said a spokesperson of the agency on Saturday.

The accused, who was carrying a reward of ₹2 lakh for his arrest, was named in the charge sheet filed by the NIA in the case.

"Abdul Saleem, the state secretary for the PFI Telangana North, is the 15th accused who has been arrested in the case originally registered by the Nizamabad police in July 2022, which was later taken over by the NIA in August the same year," the spokesperson said.

A key member of the PFI's group of conspirators, Saleem has been on the run since the case came to light, the NIA official said. He added that the accused was nabbed from Mydukur in Kadappa district of Andhra Pradesh following an intelligence-led operation.

Terror planner

NIA probe has revealed that Abdul Saleem was involved in radicalisation and recruitment of Muslim youths into PFI. He was sending them to terror training camps, said an NIA official.

Hedgewar mooted 'pure independence' at 1920 Congress session, says Hosabale

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

SENIOR RSS functionary Dattatreya Hosabale described the founder of the Sangh, Dr Keshav Baliram Hedgewar, as a born, uncompromising patriot, saying that Hedgewar had proposed 'vishudh swatantrata (pure independence)' in the 1920 Congress session.

"After nine years, when the resolution of 'Purna Swaraj' was passed in the Lahore session, all RSS branches enthusiastically supported it and expressed gratitude," Hosabale said on Friday at the launch of Hedgewar's biography titled 'Man of the Millennia — Dr Hedgewar' in English.

Hosabale, who is the Sarkaryavah of RSS, said Hedgewar had a holistic national thinking. Responding to critics of the Sangh, he said, "Don't try to understand the Sangh from a distance. Come closer, meet the Sangh people, and if you don't like, you are free to go back," he said, adding that many international researches are being conducted on the Sangh.

"The RSS never considered any person as its 'guru' (mentor). It made the saffron flag its guru," Hosabale said, adding that Hedgewar held that one should follow the good path and achieve success. "To understand the Sangh, one has to have the 'heart' rather than plain intellect," Hosabale said.

"Today's generation takes inspiration from Hedgewar's patriotism and national ideas," he said, adding that the citizens should shun selfishness. "India attained freedom not only for itself but for the welfare of the world. For us, 'rashtra (nation)' is 'sarvopari' (above everything else)," he asserted.

Book on RSS founder launched

The biography of RSS founder Dr Keshav Baliram Hedgewar, titled 'Man of the Millennia — Dr Hedgewar' was launched in English on Friday. The chief guest at the event was Andhra Pradesh Governor Justice (retd) S Abdul Nazeer. The governor said that the world felt inspired by the works of the organisation founded by Hedgewar.

■ Amid looming crisis, CM assures '80% of the party is together'

Sukhu's worry stays as 9 more MLAs say not happy

> We took this decision to uphold the honour of Himachal Pradesh and its people. Did the Congress not have any candidate from its state cadre who could represent Himachal in the Rajya Sabha?
>
> Rajinder Rana, MLA

Ex-CM's son drifting

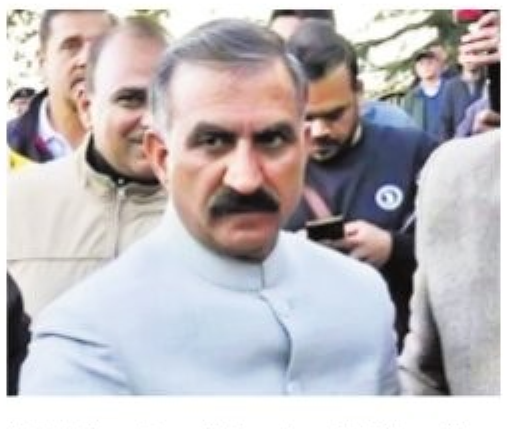
Family of ex-CM Virbhadra Singh is still sulking. His son, PWD Minister Vikramaditya Singh has removed status of 'minister and Congress' from his social media accounts and has put up 'Himachal ka Sewak.'

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu-led Himachal government appeared on a shaky ground on Saturday as one of the six Congress MLAs who cross-voted in the Rajya Sabha elections and was later disqualified from the assembly claimed at least nine more MLAs were in touch with the group and that the state government "will soon be toppled."

On the other hand, the family of former CM Virbhadra Singh is still sulking. His son and state PWD Minister Vikramaditya Singh has removed the status of 'minister and Congress' from his social media accounts and has put up a new status 'Himachal ka Sewak.' This has fuelled speculation about his further drifting away from the party.

Amid the looming crisis, Sukhu has said that "80% of the Congress is together" and that some people are "upset." The party got yet another jolt with rebel Congress MLA Rajinder Rana on Saturday saying that at least nine more MLAs were in touch with his group and that no one wants to return. "We took this decision to uphold the honour of Himachal Pradesh and its people. Did the Congress not have any candidate from its state cadre who could represent Himachal in the Rajya Sabha?" he asked.



Amid the Congress' woes, Revenue Minister Jagat Negi and Education Minister Rohit Thakur on Saturday walked out of the Cabinet meeting being chaired by Sukhu after a "heated debate" over policy decisions, sources said. Thakur, however, returned after reportedly being pacified by Deputy Chief Minister Mukesh Agnihotri, they said.

When asked about the rebel group's stance had Sonia Gandhi contested the polls instead of Abhishek Manu Singhvi, Rana said, "She has contributed a lot to the country. Had she fought from here, it would have been a different matter.'' He alleged that it is "not Congress' government in the state. It is the government of only Sukhu's friends."

Another rebel Congress MLA Inder Dutt Lakhanpal said, "A few people may call us traitors. But we are not. We listened to our conscience. It was our personal decision."

■ Ajit Pawar's NCP, Shiv Sena discomfited with seat arrangements

Maha rift between Shinde and Fadnavis over seats

> There is a considerable discomfort among both NCP and Shiv Sena, who are allies of the BJP in Mahayuti, regarding the seat-sharing arrangement for the Lok Sabha elections
>
> Senior NCP leader

Seats given to parties

The BJP has offered only four seats to the NCP, led by Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar, despite their demand for nine. Similarly, Shiv Sena led by Shinde, was offered seven seats, despite requesting 11.

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ New Delhi

TENSIONS are rising within BJP and its allies in Maharashtra ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. Eknath Shinde, the chief minister of Maharashtra and leader of the Shiv Sena, along with former minister Ramadas Kadam, have levelled serious allegations against the BJP. Kadam accused the BJP of aiming to eliminate all regional parties and consolidate its position as the dominant political force.

According to a reliable source, the BJP has offered only four seats to the NCP, led by Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar, despite their demand for nine Lok Sabha seats. Similarly, the Shiv Sena, led by Shinde, has been offered only seven seats, despite requesting 11 Lok Sabha seats in Maharashtra.

"There is considerable discomfort between both the NCP and Shiv Sena, who are allies of the BJP in Mahayuti, regarding the seat-sharing arrangement for the Lok Sabha elections. The BJP intends to contest a significant number of seats, even those traditionally held by the NCP and Shiv Sena. They seek to secure all the winning seats while leaving less favourable ones to their allies. It appears that the BJP aims to marginalize its allies in the Lok Sabha elections, leaving them with little choice," said a senior NCP leader on condition of anonymity.

Tensions between the allies escalated when BJP Rajya Sabha MP and Union Minister Narayan Rane claimed the Ratnagiri-Sindhudurg Lok Sabha constituency in the Konkan region.

In a post on 'X', Narayan Rane stated, "The Lok Sabha elections will be announced soon. Many leaders from various parties are asserting their rights regarding the Ratnagiri-Sindhudurg Lok Sabha seat. This seat belongs to the BJP, and only we will contest it." Ramdas Kadam reacted angrily, alleging that the BJP's intention is to dominate all parties and contest all Lok Sabha seats in Maharashtra. He insisted that the Shiv Sena has a historical claim over the Ratnagiri-Sindhudurg Lok Sabha seat.

"It's our traditional seat. The BJP claims we are allies, yet they want to take the lion's share and leave nothing for their partners. This is unacceptable," Kadam declared.

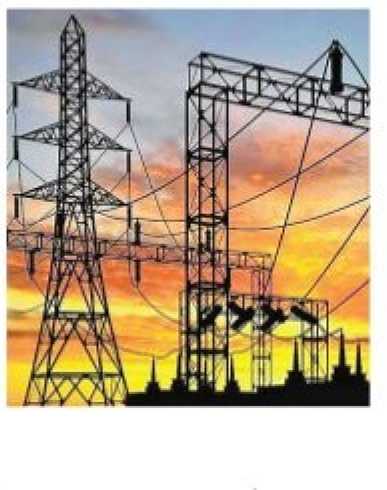
The incident happened at Upgraded Middle School in Bihar's Rohtas district. Relief to consumers: 2% cut in power tariff

In a big relief to power consumers, Bihar electricity regulatory commission has ordered nearly 2% cut in power tariff of all sorts. The new rate will be effective from April 1, 2024. Last year, state's two power distribution companies—North Bihar Power Distribution Company Limited and South Bihar Power Distribution Company Limited—had filled separate tariff petitions before the commission and requested for a hike in tariff rates. The commission, however, turned down their recommendations of hike, ordered a cut in electricity rate of 3.03% for financial year 2024-25. But keeping in view revenue surplus, it decided to reduce tariff for all consumers.



Rahul resumes yatra from Raj, moves to MP

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AFTER a gap of five days , Rahul Gandhi recommenced his Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra from Rajasthan's Dholpur district on Saturday, embarking on a padyatra. Gandhi reiterated his criticism of Adani's involvement in defense contracts, highlighting perceived injustices towards farmers under the Modi government, and pledged Congress's commitment to ensuring a minimum support price (MSP) for farmers upon returning to power.

The Congress leader embarked on a two-and-a-half-kilometer procession that eventually entered Morena in Madhya Pradesh. Prominent Rajasthan Congress leaders, including former Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, joined the event.

During the roadshow, Gandhi vehemently criticised the Modi government, alleging it of favouring Adani. He asserted that foreign companies would now manufacture arms, ammunition, bullets, drones, and airplanes, with Adani becoming their partner and selling them in India.

He stated, "Now, arms, ammunition and airplanes will be manufactured by foreign companies. Adani will partner with them and sell these products here. So, defense funds will flow to Adani. Agniveer will neither receive government facilities nor respect."

Centre orders status quo on power project

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Centre has asked Punjab and Himachal Pradesh governments to maintain status quo on the 110-mw Shanan power project in Mandi as the 99-year lease expired on Saturday.

In its order issued on Friday, the union power ministry said, "It is hereby directed that the HP government and Punjab will maintain status quo with regard to the functioning of the Shanan power house after the expiry of the lease period on March 2 till a final decision is taken by this ministry.''

The project is under control of Punjab government. The Himachal government had earlier indicated that it will not extend the lease due to demands by local residents who claim that since the project uses water of Himachal, its benefits should not go to Punjab.

Last year, Himachal CM Sukhwinder Singh Sukhu had written to Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann that after March 2, a team of engineers would take charge of the project. The Punjab government filed a suit in the SC to restrain Himachal from taking over the project. The SC will hear the suit on Monday. The lease agreement was signed in 1925 between Jogendra Sen Bahadur, then ruler of Mandi, and Colonel BC Batty, then chief engineer of undivided Punjab.

Sai govt defeats Naxalism with proactive Puvarti Model

Battle Against Naxalism Intensified: Chhattisgarh Police establishes camp in Puvarti village of Hidma

Chhattisgarh is the 9th largest state of India geographically, and it is popularly known as 'rice bowl', but identity of this state extends beyond its geography and agricultural abundance. Holding a significant 19% share in coal production and about 16% in iron ore, this state energizes the nation's economy. Despite this, Naxalism has cast shadows on the wonderful success stories of Chhattisgarh state. Two months ago, the Vishnu Deo Sai government in Chhattisgarh intensified its fight against Naxalism. In the same sequence, a security forces' camp has been established in Puvarti village of Sukma on February 16, 2024. Purvati village is referred to as the nursery of Naxals. Following the Naxal attack on the CRPF camp in Tekalgudam on January 30, resulting in three martyrs and 17 injuries, Chief Minister Vishnu Deo Sai paid homage to the soldiers in Jagdalpur. Immediately after the incident, he reviewed the campaign against Naxals.Chief Minister gave clear instructions in the review meeting of Home Department to expedite the anti-Naxal operations and make it more rigorous.

Within 15 days of the meeting with Chief Minister Shri Vishnu Deo Sai and Home Minister Shri Vijay Sharma, Chhattisgarh Police established a camp with approximately 500 personnel in Puvarti village. The camp includes personnel from CRPF Cobra, DRG, and district police on a permanent basis. The police camp in Puvarti will not only enhance law and order but also extend the reach of good governance. Surveys for development projects, such as electricity and roads, have been initiated. Preparations are underway to provide facilities such as Anganwadi Centers and medical services.

Puvarti: Formal Focal point of Multiple Naxal Incidents

Puvarti village had become the epicenter of numerous Naxal incidents. Naxals strategized and executed two major operations from this location. Over the past few years, several major incidents in South Bastar, such as Tadmetla (2010), Burkapal (2017),Minpa (2020), and Tekalgudam (2021), originated from Puvarti. Naxal CommanderHidma's PLGA (People's Liberation Guerrilla Army) group was involved in all these incidents. Many soldiers from the police and paramilitary forces have been martyred in these incidents in South Bastar. Hidma, Deva, Surendra, and other most-wanted Naxals, including those active in neighbouring states, have connections to this village. In a way, Puvarti has become the hub of PLGA activities. Before setting up the camp in Puvarti, the police established a camp in Tekalgudam 5 km away, which will also function permanently.

> The police camp in Puvarti will not only enhance law and order but also extend the reach of good governance. Surveys for development projects, such as electricity and roads, have been initiated. Preparations are underway to provide Anganwadi Centers and medical services

Emphasizing Development in Naxal-Affected Villages

Shri Vishnu Deo Sai Government is actively engaged in development initiativesalongside law enforcement measures against Naxals.The government has started the "Niyad-Nellanar" (Your Good Village) project for the development of Naxal-affected villages. Under this scheme, 25 basic facilities like education, health, and employment will be provided in villages located in Naxal-affected areas. A budget of 25 crores has been allocated for this project.

Community policing in remote Naxal areas has boosted the trust and confidence of localities in the state government and police. To meet the shortage of soldiers in the fight against Naxals, 1089 positions in the police force have been approved. Benefits like Naxal allowance and other facilities have boosted the morale of security personnel. To ensure the safety of deployed soldiers in Naxal areas, government has decided to provide them with special resistant boots. South Bastar (Sukma and Bijapur) has been a part of the strategy of Naxal-liberated zones. In this context, the police camp here is a psychological victory for Chhattisgarh Police against Naxalism.

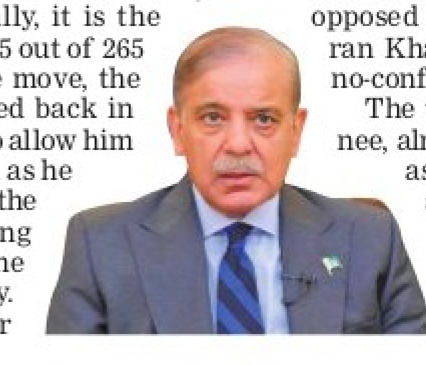
Shehbaz Sharif set to become Pak's prime minister for a second time

ISLAMABAD

TOP PML-N leader Shehbaz Sharif is set to become the 33rd Prime Minister of Pakistan on Sunday, once again leading a coalition government, amidst allegations of rigging of polls and facing staggering economic and security challenges. Shehbaz, who is the joint candidate of Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) and Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP), has already submitted his nomination. His challenger Omar Ayub Khan of Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) too has filed his papers. PML-N president Shehbaz, 72, is the younger brother of former three-time prime minister Nawaz Sharif, 74. Voting in the National Assembly to elect the new prime minister would be held on Sunday, according to the National Assembly Secretariat. The successful candidate will be administered the oath of office on Monday at the Presidential mansion, Aiwan-e-Sadr.

Shehbaz is known as an able administrator due to the swift execution of mega-development projects while serving as chief minister of the Punjab province. However, he failed to exhibit the qualities when elevated to serve as prime minister for a 16-month stint in 2022. He faces the menacing challenges of a fragile economy and the increasing threat of terrorism. His government would also have to face the street power of jailed former prime minister Imran Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party which had been protesting against the alleged rigging of elections.



In the February 8 polls, the Sharifs-led party failed to garner a clear majority, albeit technically, it is the largest party with 75 out of 265 seats. In a surprise move, the elder Sharif stepped back in favour of Shehbaz to allow him to lead the coalition as he is believed to have the knack of taking along diverse groups in the polarised country. The PPP and four smaller parties have joined the coalition with the PPP supporting the government from outside in return for PML-N support for the election of its senior leader and former president Asif Ali Zardari as the president once again.

Shehbaz Sharif's election as the prime minister is almost certain since the PML-N and PPP's candidates for the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the National Assembly were elected on Friday with a comfortable majority. Shehbaz served as prime minister of a coalition government from April 2022 to August 2023 before Parliament was dissolved to hold general elections.

Quoting 'highly placed sources,' The News International newspaper reported that President Arif Alvi, known for his closeness to Imran Khan, has consented to administer the oath to the new prime minister. Interestingly, President Alvi had declined ' on the pretext of health problems ' to administer the oath to Shehbaz Sharif in April 2022 when he became the prime minister unopposed after the ouster of the Imran Khan government through a no-confidence vote.

The term for Alvi, a PTI nominee, already expired last year but, as per Constitutional provisions, he will need to hold the post until the election of the new president, which is set to be held on March 9. PTI

Pak court confirms interim bail of Imran Khan in 4 cases

Lahore: A Pakistani court has confirmed the interim bail of jailed former prime minister Imran Khan in four cases related to the May 9 violence and others, according to a media report on Saturday. Jill Biden blasts Trump as 'dangerous to women and to our families'

ATLANTA

FIRST lady Jill Biden warned on Friday that returning Donald Trump to the White House would threaten women who already have watched the former president's Supreme Court picks nix a federal right to abortion services. "Trump has spent a lifetime tearing us down and devaluing our existence," she said in Atlanta, where she launched a multistate battleground tour to highlight President Joe Biden's re-election campaign outreach programme aimed at women. "I've been so proud of how Joe has placed women at the heart of his agenda," the first lady said of her husband. She contrasted him to Trump, who she said "mocks women's bodies, disrespects our accomplishments and brags about assault " and, as recently as this week, took credit for "killing Roe v. Wade." It was an unusually pointed take-down from Jill Biden. She has long been a smiling, supportive advocate for her husband, often telling endearing stories about their marriage and family and her own career as an educator. Her remarks on Friday signaled a more aggressive role in what is setting up to be a bitter rematch of the 2020 election. Women are likely to play a crucial role, especially in the relative handful of states that will determine the Electoral College outcome.

"We are the first generation in half a century to give our daughters a country with fewer rights than we had," she said, adding that women must organize in 2024 and "meet this moment as if our rights are at risk ' because they are." Besides visiting Georgia, the first lady will highlight the campaign's "Women for Biden" effort with weekend events in Arizona, Nevada and Wisconsin.

The president won all four states in 2020, and each is expected to be hotly contested in November.

On Friday, Vice President Kamala Harris released a video affirming her role alongside the first lady as the president's top validator to women. "At a woman-owned event space in downtown Atlanta, Jill Biden listed administration accomplishments and priorities, assuring a friendly audience that "Joe and Kamala" will push for a national abortion rights law superseding state restrictions, while also protecting access to fertility treatments and birth control.

Trump's campaign countered with a different slate of issues and highlighted the recent killing of a Georgia college student as proof the former president can serve women better than the incumbent who defeated him in 2020. AP

27% rise in coal production from captive and commercial mines year-on-year to 126.8 million tonnes in April-February this fiscal

‘OUR FOCUS WILL BE DELHI-NCR MARKET IN FY25’

There are good tractions across the cities, be it middle or luxury segment

Beyond National Capital Region and our home turf Bengaluru, I see big opportunities to grow in Hyderabad, Mumbai and Pune

BENGALURU-BASED Prestige Group is on an expansion spree. After becoming a formidable force in the software capital of India, the realty major has established itself in Hyderabad and Mumbai. Prestige is now eying the northern region to become a true pan-India realty company. “In the financial year 2024-2025, our full focus will be on the Delhi-NCR market. We will have our presence in Noida, Gurugram and New Delhi,” Venkat K Narayana, CEO of Prestige Group, told in an interview with Arshad Khan of this newspaper. He also spoke about demand in the housing sector, entry into the Delhi-National Capital Region (NCR) market, sales projection and more. Edited excerpts-

Housing sales hit a new peak in calendar year 2024 and Prestige posted robust numbers. How is demand and growth looking from such a high base?

We are doing well but there is so much more to do with the kind of demand we are seeing, especially when there is a shift towards the middle and upper-middle segments. There are good tractions across all the cities and segments, be it middle, upper middle, premium or luxury. We see interest rate start tapering down a little more after the general elections. This will further push the sales.

In CY22, when housing sales in top 7 cities stood at 3.6 lakh units, everyone said the industry had peaked and demand would consolidate. However, sales grew 31% year-on-year to 4.76 lakh units in CY23. I feel two things are happening in the industry, one, it is growing, and secondly some developers growing. Sometimes demand can be where it is but the share of good developers can grow within that.

Bengaluru’s share in your sales mix was 59% in FY23, followed by Mumbai and Hyderabad. Do you see this mix changing following your aggressive expansion beyond Bengaluru?

The mix of each city in our sales component is driven by what kind of launches are taking place within the particular fiscal.

This fiscal, we will have the second-highest contribution coming from Hyderabad because we had a big launch there. Number 1 will of course remain Bengaluru. In FY25, we will have a large contribution coming from NCR.

Currently, we have no presence in residential space in NCR but we have a lot of projects in the pipeline. Our entry into the Mumbai market has been very recent, so we are not yet operating at the micro markets at an optimum level. There is so much room to grow here.

What makes you so bullish about the NCR market given the region has strong players such as DLF and Godrej Properties?

The NCR market is doing well. Of course, DLF has a strong presence as it is their home turf. Beyond that, I feel there is room for other players to be present and offer their products.

We have one project going on in Aerocity (New Delhi) which is a hotel-cum-office. In Noida, we have a project planned and in Gurugram we have identified land. So far, we have signed one, constructing one and more are in the diligence stage. We tend to close them soon. We hope that this market also works out well for us like the way Mumbai worked out.

So your quest is to have a pan-India presence?

It is very easy in terms of processes to go to the different cities, implement them and be a differentiator. With the kind of team we have built and the relationship we have, our growth has always been a collaborative approach. There are a lot of developers who are in stress. We co-partner with them so their lands become projects.

Beyond NCR and our home turf Bengaluru, I see big opportunities to grow in Hyderabad, Mumbai and Pune. Of the overall 4.76 lakh residential units sold in CY24, half of them have come from Mumbai-Pune region. In Pune, we have identified land and now we are in the due diligence stage.

Sales-wise, how you are looking to close FY24? Also, you had one of the highest debt levels among realty players. Is it a matter of concern? (Net Debt as of December 31, 2024: ₹6,980 crore)

We achieved the highest-ever nine-month sales in FY24 at ₹16,333 crore, a growth of 81% YoY. Our 9M collection was the highest ever at ₹8,478 crore. If we maintain, we will close the FY24 with ₹20,000 crore sales. Our debt should not be compared with realtors who operate in only residential segment. Our residential debt is nothing. Our debt is coming from offices and hotels. You can compare us with players who operate in this space. In fact, we can say our debt is one of the lowest given the work we are doing.

It seems real estate sector is in a consolidation phase. Do you expect Grade A developers’ share to cross 50% mark in the coming years?

The regulatory norms such as RERA and situations like demonetisation added to the consolidation process. It will take couple of years to fully ensure all the developers are trustworthy, efficient and well-governed. Grade A developers’ share has grown to 35% from 16-17% earlier in the top 7 cities. I am sure this share will move to 50-60% in the next 3-4 years.

Byju’s fails to pay salary as funds stuck in escrow account

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

EDTECH company Byju’s has delayed February salaries for over 20,000 employees, blaming four investors who had approached the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) against the edtech firm.

Since the NCLT directed the firm to keep funds received from the rights issue in a separate escrow account, the company said it would not be able to use the funds to pay salaries. Byju’s said it is ensuring salaries are paid by March 10. For past two-three months, the firm is struggling to pay salaries, and last month employees were told through $200 million rights issue it would raise money and make payments.

In a letter to employees, founder and CEO Byju Raveendran said the rights issue has been successfully closed and this was supposed to be a happy correspondence.

“After all, we now have funds to meet our short-term needs and clear our liabilities. However, I regret to inform you that we will still be unable to process your salaries. Last month, we faced challenges due to a lack of capital, and now we are experiencing a delay despite having funds,” he said. He also added that four out of over 150 investors have “stooped to a heartless level, ensuring that we are unable to utilize the funds raised to pay your hard-earned salaries”.

“It is an agonising reality that some of these investors have reaped substantial profits – in fact, one of them has made a staggering eight times their initial investment in Byju’s. And yet, their actions convey a callous disregard for our lives and livelihoods,” he said.

NEWSCOPE

DIGITAL MEDIA THREATENED BY A SLEW OF NEW REGULATIONS

GURBIR SINGH

THE latest outburst of ‘X’ (formerly Twitter) against orders by the Union Ministry of Information & Broadcasting (MIB) to remove a slew of accounts and posts, once again reveals the dangerous road of censorship the government is treading. Digital media was one ray of hope, one platform which provides an ‘open’ source of news and views. Unfortunately, that hope seems to be going up in smoke.

A little over a week ago, ‘X’ on its Global Government Affairs feed, complained that it had got ‘orders’ from the Union government to take down certain accounts and posts, most of them related to the farmers agitation; and it said it was doing so for fear of ‘fines and imprisonment’.

“In compliance with these orders, we will withhold these accounts and posts in India alone; however, we disagree with these actions and maintain that freedom of expression should extend to these posts,” X said on its feed. The government has not responded to X’s charges.

X has had a long history of run-ins with the government, and it has chosen to come out in the open. Others haven’t.

Creeping censorship

Over time, the main platforms of news communication have been compromised to extreme regulation. Newspapers – the legacy media with rich roots in India, and with as many as 4 lakh registered titles – have slowly fallen in line. Formal control is exercised through the Press & Registration of Books Act, 1867 wherein the license to publish can be withdrawn anytime.

Besides formal control, thousands of publications rely on advertising revenue from government bodies. Though there is supposed to be no quid pro quo, the control over advertising revenue is a huge lever to temper criticism and ensure a ‘friendly’ editorial line.

Broadcasting – radio and television – too are under strict government control through the three-decade old Cable Television Network (Regulation) Act 1995. Licenses to news channels have dried up and the MIB has wielded limitless power by being the judge of what is ‘acceptable’ content. The recent gag orders on the Marathi ‘Lokshahi’ channel on technical grounds is a case in point. The channel was off air for nearly a month, and it was only after the Delhi High Court’s stay against the MIB order, was Lokshahi’ able to begin operations again.

In this scenario, it is digital communication platforms that have saved the day. Thousands of YouTube channels in Uttar Pradesh have replaced the bland and pro-establishment mainline media. The grey area of regulating digital, internet-based platforms, also called over-the-top (OTT) platforms have allowed new digital networks to set up quickly and prosper. ‘Lalantop’, an internet news service, garnered millions of eyeballs for its detailed and sympathetic coverage of the farmers agitation in 2020.

SOURAV ROY

But Big Brother is not happy. The rash of experimental OTT channels and the ramped up streaming technology is being viewed with extreme suspicion.

New laws

Last November, the MIB initiated the Broadcasting Services Regulation Bill, 2023, which will replace the older Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, 1995. The aim is to broaden the MIB’s regulatory framework by including over-the-top (OTT) and digital news platforms.

The new act will set up a Content Evaluation Committee (CEC) which will work akin to an internal censor board made up of government and non-industry persons. The programme code can be used to ban content that ‘offends against good taste or decency’. It is now applicable to TV channels, and can be extended to OTT and digital news networks as well.

The government has also strengthened its control over digital media by adding provisions under the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules 2021. Amending the Rules in April last year, it has made intermediate platforms like Face Book, Twitter etc responsible for ensuring that no information is uploaded or transmitted that is ‘identified as fake or false or misleading by [a] fact check unit of the Central Government’, in respect of ‘any business of’ the Union government.

What is ‘fake’ or ‘false’ is subjective, and if government committees begin to determine and ban news content on what they consider ‘fake’ or ‘false’ then out goes Article 19(1) (a) – the right to freedom of speech and expression.

The third arm of control – through the Digital Personal Data Protection Act (DPDPA) promulgated in August last year – has the laudatory purpose of guarding the privacy of personal digital data. However, for journalism and news it has serious gag implications.

The big stumbling block is the requirement of ‘consent’ when using digital data. Collection of news and investigation would involve collating and transmitting such digital data. However, if ‘formal consent’ from the ‘data principal’ (individual) has not been taken, the ‘fiduciary’ – the organization or platform transmitting the data – would be liable for penalties that could extend to fines up to Rs 250 crore.

The Justice B N Srikrishna Committee that examined the provisions of the Data Protection Bill at an earlier stage, held that free communication could be crippled if the individual withheld consent. The Committee suggested that journalism and news networks should be an ‘exempted category; but this advice was ignored.

As it is, India has sunk to Rank No.161 out of 180 countries in the Press Freedom Index 2023 compiled by Reporters Without Borders (RSF) – a fall of 11 notches from 150th position in 2022. With the series of legal pincer moves, the last frontier of free news dissemination – digital media – will now be under serious threat.

Google starts restoring Indian app developers it delisted on March 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A day after Google removed 10 Indian app developers from its Play Store over non-payment of service fees, it has started restoring some of the apps. Sources in Google told TNIE only those developers who have agreed to comply with Android’s billing options have been allowed to resubmit their apps.

As per sources, most of the app developers have opted to operate on Consumption-only basis without paying any service fee. Under the consumption-only model, any developer could allow a user of their app to access content that they paid for outside the app. Meanwhile, the Electronics and Information Technology Ministry said the decision was made after the intervention of Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw. Vaishnaw convened both the American tech giant and app developers, asking them to resolve the issue. He said that this kind of delisting cannot be allowed.

“I have called Google... I have already called the app developers who have been delisted, and we will be meeting them next week. This can’t be permitted. This kind of delisting can’t be permitted,” said Vaishnaw. He said India’s policy is very clear, and its startups will receive the protection they need.

On Friday, March 1, Google announced it had delisted Shaadi, Matrimony.com, Bharat Matrimony, Altt (formerly ALT-Balaji), audio platform Kuku FM, dating service Quack Quack, and others from its platform. The firm reasoned that these 10 firms had avoided paying fees despite benefiting from the platform and Play Store, and proceeded to delist some apps. However, it didn’t name the firms, and a search of Play Store on Android phones didn’t yield any results.

The dispute centers around Google imposing a fee of 11% to 26% on in-app payments after the anti-competition body CCI ordered scrapping of an earlier system of charging 15% to 30%. Google went ahead with removing the apps without paying the fee after the Supreme Court didn’t provide interim relief to the firms behind these apps in their battle against the search giant’s app marketplace fee.

NEFT processes record single-day transactions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE National Electronic Funds Transfer (NEFT) system achieved a milestone on February 29, 2024, by processing 4.10 crore transactions, the highest number of transactions processed in a day so far.

The NEFT system and Real Time Gross Settlement (RTGS) system are being managed by the Reserve Bank of India to settle the retail and wholesale payments, respectively.

According to an RBI statement, an important landmark was reached in the journey of these systems with NEFT and RTGS functioning on a 24x7x365 basis from December 16, 2019, and December 14, 2020, respectively. During the previous ten years (2014-23), NEFT and RTGS systems have registered growth of 700% and 200% respectively in terms of volume and 670% and 104% respectively in terms of value. RTGS system had processed its highest ever volume of 16.25 lakh transactions in a day on 31 March 2023.

While NEFT transactions happen between two banks within a given schedule, transfers under RTGS can take place on a real time basis.

Reigning national champ Anmol Kharb training at Sunrise Academy in Noida | PARVEEN NEGI

I just try to focus on my game and give my 100 per cent. The result is not in our hands. But having those conversations gives a lot of confidence like you have interacted and gotten attached socially, there is no reason to be intimidated. There is no fear at all. — Anmol Kharb

As Faridabad teenager takes the first step towards stardom, Gomesh S tries to find out about the academy she trains in and how her parents and coach are guiding her in her quest to become a champ

ANMOL RISE

Sunday Special

NAHI. Mujhe bas jahaan bhi jaana, apna best dena hai. Aur acche se khelna hai (Nothing of the sort. For me, wherever I go, I just want to give my best and play a good game)," smiles Anmol Kharb.

It's around 2 PM on Saturday. Away from the chaos of the national capital, the 17-year-old newest badminton sensation, who won the senior women's singles nationals late last year and helped India win their first medal at the Asian Team Championships recently, is sitting in the office of Sunrise Shuttlers Academy in sector 104, Noida. She is visibly tired after a gruelling training sessions.

As she always does, Anmol had started the day at 5 AM with power training — something she does with boxers in Faridabad — and then, came to the Sunrise Academy in Noida, finished two training sessions, from about 10.30 AM till 1.45 PM, before discussing about limelight and expectations she is facing now. Her answer, with an assured tone and a smile, was a simple "emphasis on playing well".

For someone interested in skating, Anmol initially took up badminton because it's an indoor sport and it's something that doesn't cause that many nicks and bruises like skating. After her dad Devender Kharb built a court in the Faridabad neighbourhood for her elder brother, it did not take long for the then 10-year-old to fall in love with the sport. Once her father saw her performances in local tournaments, Devender signed her up at the Sunrise Academy around two years ago. With Kusumm Singh as a coach, the academy has been in Noida since January 1, 2021.

The rise, however, was not easy. This is what Anmol's daily schedule looks like. She and her mother Rajbala, travels every day to Noida for training. Power training early in the morning and then back-to-back sessions with Kusumm at the academy. The coach had known Anmol from even earlier in Faridabad and continued to mentor her for a year as her ward. Year 2023 was a massive step up in every sense as she beat Tanvi Khanna to win her first senior nationals title at the age of 16. With the Badminton Association of India taking a plunge to include the teen prodigy from Haryana in the India team for the Asia Championships, Anmol showed no nerves. She won the clutch deciders to help the country clinch a historic gold in the women's category last month. The years of hard work and toil apart, it does not take long to identify what makes Anmol stand out — her confidence. Ask her whose game she likes, "my own" comes the answer. "I love Saina di's game. Mine is a bit similar to hers, but I love my game," she says.

Where does this confidence come from? The answer lies in her personality. From a young age, Anmol had been this "socially extroverted" kid. Devender would often find her chatting with some player or the other — contemporaries, seniors and even opponents — in some other court after matches.

The list of players she defeated in Malaysia is impressive. Even within the India team that had the likes of PV Sindhu, Treesa Jolly, Gayatri Gopichand and Ashmita Chaliha, all it took her was the first meeting to make friends and become the "pampered youngster". "On the first day we met, I made friends," says Anmol. The teenager was even prepared to dance in front of the team as is the tradition for any newcomer to break the ice within the squad. "Whenever newcomers are there, they will have to dance in front of the team. This time because of the finals everyone was focussed. Maybe, next time it might happen. For hours I was going through YouTube to see easy dance steps, and I did a bit of rehearsal with my roommate also," she laughs. Anmol's ability to make friends without any inhibition plays a significant role in what she does on the field. "I just try to focus on my game and give my 100 percent. The result is not in our hands. But having those conversations gives a lot of confidence like you have interacted and gotten attached socially, there is no reason to be intimidated. There is no fear at all," she explains.

Her coach Kusumm, who has constantly conversed with Anmol to not be star-struck, elaborates: "You can be a star for a while, but you are always human. It is important because if you give too much importance to someone, you forget who you are and your strength. Your opponent is just like you, but you cannot be intimidated by them. If you are, you cannot give your best and when you cannot, how will you know your level?."

Dr. Ashok Ahuja, former head of Sports Medicine and Sciences at NIS, Patiala, says that Anmol's confidence and willpower to go through the grind has brought her this far. "At the senior level, we talk of mental toughness, I think, thankfully, she has got that innate mental makeup to take up any challenges. The moment when we see her in training, she is very particular about it. Immediately when she returned (from Malaysia) before even we could tell her that celebrations should be over soon, she said 'Sir, I went for my fitness in the morning'," says Ahuja, a mentor at the Sunrise Academy.

Rising star of Delhi

The other fascinating aspect of Anmol's rise to stardom is that she is one of the few to take the badminton world by storm from this part of the country. From 2010, barring Anupama Upadhyaya (2022, Haryana), no other women's singles national champion have emerged from the northern zone. Anmol's inspiration Saina, while born in Haryana grew up and made her name in Hyderabad. Ask Kusumm why is that the case, the 35-year-old coach explains: "That time (during her playing days) infrastructure was less and parents are protective about the girl child, because of lack of exposure. Whatever you do, you do for your future and career, right? Everyone would want to know, if they do this, what will happen in the future. Slowly, they started understanding. Tanvi is from Punjab, Anmol is from Haryana, and so are Anupama and Unnati Hooda. Slowly they are coming up because parents are aware, and the support system is better. The financial help is important. And more importantly, you will need the support early to match the early potential.

"Now, there are academies everywhere so they train there, but if you shift, the cost goes go up and when a girl child moves, the stress on parents goes up. Maybe, these are the reasons but they are relaxed now because of availability and affordability. There are more talented players now. My parents wanted me to shift to Hyderabad or Bengaluru but again in a family if you are not a single child, you have to take care of everyone and the family demands take precedence. The parents feel the helplessness but they don't tell or want to do for the kids," adds the coach, who is hoping Anmol gets good sponsors to pursue her craft in the circuit.

Pacers help Mumbai restrict Tamil Nadu

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

A PROFESSIONAL display enabled Mumbai to bundle out Tamil Nadu for a paltry 146 on Day 1 of the semifinals of the Ranji Trophy at the BKC complex in Mumbai on Saturday. In reply, the hosts were 45 for 2. Both the Mumbai openers fell due to lack of application. Prithvi Shaw edged TN pacer Kuldeep Sen to Baba Indrajith at slips and then Bhupen Lalwani fell leg-before to R Sai Kishore.

Tushar Deshpande (3/24) was the pick of Mumbai bowlers breaking the visitors' top-order with accuracy and pace. Tamil Nadu skipper R Sai Kishore called the coin right and opted to bat on a wicket that had something to offer for pacers. But Sai Kishore backed his strong batting line-up.

B Sai Sudharsan, coming in after a long lay off due to back injury, was tentative and Shardul Thakur captalised trapping the ace batter right in front. Vijay Shankar (44) and Washington Sundar (43) were the only ones who could show some pluck, the rest perished due to pressure and poor shot selection. "Very pleased with the way we (Mumbai) played. It was a teamwork and we never expected to get Tamil Nadu out for 146. Actually, Tamil Nadu have the best batting lineup in the country right now and to get them all out on this score was a creditable job. We always wanted to restrict them (Tamil Nadu) to as low a score as possible," Deshpande told this daily.

BRIEF SCORES

At Mumbai: TN 146 in 64.1 ovs (Vijay 44, Washington 43; Deshpande 3/24) vs Mumbai 45/2 in 17 ovs (Musheer 24 batting).

At Nagpur: Vidarbha 170 in 56.4 ovs (Nair 63, Taide 39; Avesh 4/49) vs Madhya Pradesh 47/1 in 20 ovs (Himanshu 26 batting).

The CSK ace speedster accounted for the wickets of Pradosh, Sai Kishore and Baba Indrajith, who had had a great season this time. "All the three were good, But I actually wanted to take more wickets. But nevertheless the wicket of Sai Kishore gave a lot of satisfaction. I mean, Sai Kishore was sent (early) to see off the new ball and I was just visualizing the ball going through his gate, LBW or bowled, and the same thing happened. So I am happy with that one," added Tushar. Mumbai captain Ajinkya Rahne has been leading from the front by making shrewd bowling changes. "Rahane reads the situation well. He did well to restrict Tamil Nadu. But still it's an open game. We have to bat well and then again bowl well because we know how good the Tamil Nadu batting lineup is," said Tushar.

BENGALURU FC are into the top-six, to fuel their playoffs qualification aspirations with a 1-0 victory against Kerala Blasters FC at the Sree Kanteerava Stadium in the Indian Super League. With 21 points from 18 games, Bengaluru have displaced Jamshedpur FC from the sixth spot in the standings.

The 3 points came as a result of a late 89th-minute winner by Bengaluru's Spanish midfielder Javi Hernandez, who tapped in a strike set up by Shivaldo Singh. Kerala kept Bengaluru at bay, but Hernandez finally got into the position to convert a chance that earned the home side three points.

Bengaluru skipper Sunil Chhetri was at the forefront for long durations of the game for his side, forming a formidable partnership with Ryan Williams to find multiple breakthroughs into the Kerala Blasters' defence. Williams got behind the defence, producing several important opportunities that Chhetri fell short of pouncing.

Earlier, Mumbai City FC levelled league-leaders Odisha FC in the points table with a hard-fought 3-2 victory against the high-flying Punjab FC at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium in New Delhi.

Delay in Canada visa updates gives FIDE headache

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

FIDE, the world governing body for chess, put together an extraordinary appeal late on Friday night as they urged the Canadian government to issue visas to players who have qualified for the Candidates. The elite eight player competition identities the challenger for the World Championship match later year. Both Candidates events (open and women) are scheduled to be in Toronto from April 3 to 22

On X (formerly Twitter), they wrote: "Regrettably, players from various countries worldwide, who submitted their visa applications [a] few months ago, have not yet received any updates on their status," the body said. "With only a month remaining till the FIDE Candidates Tournament, there are grave concerns about the timely arrival of the players to Toronto." They tagged the official account of the Minister of Immigration, Marc Miller, in the appeal. Emil Sutovsky, FIDE CEO, while sharing the appeal on X, tagged the account of Justin Trudeau, the Canadian PM.

In a separate email to this daily, FIDE confirmed that four out of the five Indian players are yet to hear any updates about their visa status. "We can confirm that four out of five Indian players did not receive a reply from Immigration Canada, despite timely submitting their application," the body.

It's understood that the brother-sister duo of R Vaishali and R Pragnnanandhaa are among the four. "Pragg, Vaishali and coach have submitted biometrics," their trainer RB Ramesh told this daily. "They are supposed to send us the date to submit passport and it will take 10 working days after that to get visa. Time is very short." As it stands, they plan to leave to Toronto on March 29.

Canada and India had a much documented diplomatic row last year after Trudeau publicly said that the latter was involved in the killing of Hardeep Singh Nijjar, a Canadian citizen who batted for a separate Sikh state (New Delhi has continued to deny the allegations). Since the accusation, both countries have cut down diplomatic links. For a brief while, India had suspended visa services but it's running now. While one cannot say with certainty if this current standoff between the two countries is a reason for the delay, players from other countries too have been affected. In all, about 40 people are still waiting for their visas to attend the tournament. "If we don't have some significant progress in one week, it's cancelled," was how Vladimir Drkulec, president of the Chess Federation of Canada, summed up the situation to the Toronto Star, a Canadian daily. "You can't have a Candidates tournament without the Candidates."

Players from three other countries have also been impacted. "Players from four countries are impacted (not only India or Russia)," Sutovsky posted on X after FIDE's appeal. "We hope to get a reply from Canadian authorities within a week, not willing to move the event we were diligently preparing together with an outstanding LOC, but we do have plan B."

Indian boxers seek all-important Olympic quotas in Italy

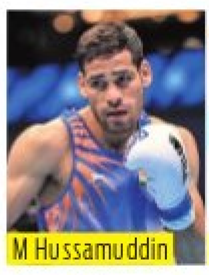
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

INDIAN boxers will be in focus in the coming days as they aim to book their tickets for the upcoming Paris Olympics. A total of nine pugilists — seven men, two women — from the country will be taking part in the 1st World Olympic Boxing Qualification Tournament in Busto Arsizio. The bouts are set to commence from Sunday and are expected to go until March 11.

It goes without saying this is a huge event for the Indians, especially for men, who are yet to clinch a single quota so far. Deepak Bhoria (51kg), two-time Olympian Shiva Thapa (63.5kg) and World Championships bronze medallist Mohammad Hussamuddin (66kg) are some of the familiar faces who would want to change that narrative.

All the selected pugilists were handpicked after a series of tests (national meet & national camp) in the build-up to this event. They'll be intent on repaying the faith put on them by the coaches.

Hussamuddin is one who has a compelling story. His aforementioned World Championships bronze medal came at a big cost. He had torn his ACL during the said event and was forced to away from the sport for a long time. That meant he was not part of the Asian Games, an event which had Olympic quotas on offer. Having returned to national camp in late December, he knew he had a mountain to climb. "It will be tough for me. But I'm confident of doing well. The treatment also went well so I'm looking forward to the challenge," he had told this daily then. Having passed the first challenge during the national camp, he will now be determined to make the most of this opportunity.



M Hussamuddin

Nishant Dev

For Deepak, this is a second chance (after losing in Round of 16 in Asiad) to earn an Olympic quota. He has been given the nod over Amit Panghal.

As was evident during his World Championships run (bronze medal) in 2023, Nishant Dev (71kg) is another talent who has the tools in his game to challenge for quotas. He is happy with the work that the team has put in during the build-up and ready to put his best foot forward. Lakshya Chahar (80kg), Sanjeet Kumar (92kg), Narender Berwal (+92kg), Jaismine Lamboria (women's 60kg) and Ankushita Boro (women's 66kg) are the other pugilists from the country who'll be looking to make a name for themselves.

A total of 49 quotas (21 for women, 28 for men) will be up for grabs during the event).

The bottom 5% of India's rural population, ranked by MPCE, has an average MPCE of ₹1,441 while it is ₹2,087 in the urban areas. The top 5% of India's rural and urban population, ranked by MPCE, has an average MPCE of ₹10,581 and ₹20,846, respectively. Among the UTs, MPCE is the highest in Chandigarh (rural ₹7,467 and urban ₹12,575), whereas, it is the lowest in Ladakh (₹4,035) and Lakshadweep (₹5,475) for rural and urban areas, respectively

MIXED MESSAGE FROM CONSUMPTION EXPENDITURE SURVEY

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Household Consumption Expenditure Survey results, which were announced after 11 years, have already led to a series of claims and counterclaims–with either side cherry-picking data to establish their points.

And while the inferences from the survey would be hotly debated, the results of the much-awaited 2022-23 survey can be summed up in three larger points – shrinking gap between rural and urban consumption; increased spending by households in non-food items and a persistent sluggishness in household consumptions.

The survey and its significance

The National Sample Survey Office (NSSO) has been conducting household surveys on consumption/consumer expenditure at regular intervals. From 1950-51 to 1973-74, the surveys were done once every year. Later, the NSSO decided to conduct the surveys on consumer expenditure and employment-unemployment together on a large scale, once every five years.

This five-year chain broke in 2017-18, when the government decided not to release the survey reports citing several errors. According to a leaked portion of the report, the consumption expenditures were showing a decline from 2011-12 levels. Nonetheless, the latest survey results are finally out, though a detailed unit-level report is yet to be released.

According to the factsheet released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MOSPI), the survey has covered the whole of India except a few inaccessible villages in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. Information in the survey has been collected from 8,723 villages and 6,115 urban blocks spread over the entire country covering 2,61,746 households (1,55,014 in rural areas and 1,06,732 in urban areas).

In order to ensure proper representation of households of different economic categories, all the households of a selected village/urban block were classified into three groups depending on a criterion based on land possessed in rural areas and possession of car in urban areas as on the date of the survey.

The consumption basket of items was divided into three broad categories–food items, consumables and services items, and durable goods. The method of data collections and questions asked underwent several changes since the last survey in 2011-12. Three sets of questionnaires were used–one each for three categories of items mentioned earlier. In 2011-12, 347 items were covered under the questionnaires. For 2022-23, several items were removed, merged and new items were included. The 2022-23 questionnaires covered 405 items.

Another big change in the method of data collection was the number of visits by the NSSO officials made to each household. Instead of a single monthly visit in a quarter, as was the norm earlier, in 2022-23, the officials paid visits three times in a quarter to each household. In the absence of credible income data, India has been using the consumption expenditure data to evaluate the poverty situation in India. Since the 2017-18 survey report was never published, there was a big debate over the poverty level in India for the past couple of years.

Key survey results

The survey shows that the average monthly per capita consumption (in current prices) in rural areas was ₹3,773 and ₹6,459 in urban areas, almost 2.5 times the monthly consumption recorded in 2011-12. The rural consumption (₹1,430 per month in FY2012) has grown at a slightly higher pace than in urban areas (₹2,630 in FY23).

However, much of the growth in monthly consumption over the previous decade is because of inflation. In real terms, monthly per capita consumption grew by only 1.3 times in urban areas and 1.4 times in rural areas. At 2011-12 prices, the same expenditure stood at Rs 2,008 in rural India and Rs 3,510 in urban India in 2022-23. The per capita income in nominal terms has grown by 2.7 times and 1.55 times between 2011-12 and 2022-23. This shows that the consumption growth has not been commensurate with growth in per capita income during the period, insinuating what is widely known now — a slowdown in household consumption.

"While a more detailed report is on the way, the preliminary data show a marked deceleration in household consumption, both in nominal and real terms, in line with our assertion that domestic demand is weakening based on multiple high-frequency data and various surveys," says Kunal Kundu, India economist at Societe Generale.

One of the highlights of the survey was the reducing gap between rural and urban household consumption spending. In 2022-23, the average urban household was spending 71.2% higher than its rural counterpart. The difference was 84% in 2011-12 and 90% in 2004-05. The difference between urban and rural consumption grows at the top. The consumption spending by the richest 5% in villages is half of that in the urban areas. The difference is less than 50% among the poorest 20% of the urban and rural population.

The bottom 5% of India's rural population has an average monthly per capita consumption expenditure (MPCE) of ₹1,373 while it is ₹2,001 for the same category of population in the urban areas. The top 5% of India's rural and urban population has an average MPCE of ₹10,501 and ₹20,824, respectively.

The 'inequality' at the top should be a cause of concern for the policymakers. The survey also shows a sharp drop in consumption spending in food items. The average monthly rural spending on food items has come down from 53% of the total in 2011-12 to 42% in 2022-23. In urban areas, the monthly spending on food items has fallen from 43% in 2011-12 to 39% in 2022-23. The share of expenditure on cereals has fallen from 11% in 2011-12 to 5% in 2022-23 in rural areas while the same has fallen from 6.67% to 3.64% in urban areas.

"More aspirational behaviour can also be seen through the rise in the share of items like fruits, milk, consumer services, entertainment and durable goods across both cohorts," says Madhavi Arora, lead economist, Emkay Global.

She also points out that while spending on food has reduced, the share of proteins in total food spending has increased, to the extent that rural households are now spending a greater share of their food budget on proteins than urban ones.

The drop in spending on food items, especially cereals, could also be attributed to implementation of the Food Security Act, which initially offered 5 kg of food grains to each family member at subsidised rates. Later, the scheme was merged with the Prime Minister Garib Kalyan Anna Yojna that started at the peak of Covid outbreak in April 2020. Under the PM Garib Kalyan Anna Yojna, 80 crore people receive 5 kg food grains per person per month free of cost.

According to the survey results, when the imputed values of items received free of cost through social transfer are included, the average rural consumption per capita per month goes up to ₹3,860 (from ₹3,773), and ₹6,521 (from ₹6,459) in urban areas.

The change in the consumption trends witnessed in the latest Household Survey report may also lead to change in the way Consumer Price Index (CPI) is calculated. Currently, the weight of food and beverages in the Consumer Price Index is 54% for rural areas and 36% for urban areas. Weight of cereals in rural and urban CPI is 12.35% and 9.67%, respectively. Based on the latest survey's findings, analysts believe there is a strong case for revision of the weights to different categories of goods and services in the CPI.

However, the government would wait for results of the second survey, which is likely to be completed in July 2024, before it changes the CPI, which measures retail inflation.

Evaluating the poverty level

Now that the initial results of the consumption survey have arrived, there has been a rush to arrive at the country's poverty levels. The day after the initial survey reports were announced (late night on 24th February), Niti Aayog CEO B V R Subrahmanyam in hurriedly called press briefing for a select few journalists made the claim that poverty levels in the country could have been closer to 5%, based on the consumption survey data. He also made the claim that the rural deprivation has almost disappeared if one looked at the consumption data.

The poverty level arrived at based on the 2011-12 consumption survey was 22%. However, experts and statisticians are not yet ready to draw any conclusion on the poverty levels of the country unless they see the unit level data, which is yet to be released.

According to Amit Basole, Professor of Economics and Head, Centre for Sustainable Employment at Azim Premji University, the Niti Aayog CEO's assertion is based on a very rough calculation. Basole says Niti Aayog CEO is basing his claims on the distribution of the average monthly per capita expenditure among fractile classes (0-5%, 5-10%, etc). And he is taking ₹60 per day per person as the poverty line (₹1,800 per person per month). "Better to wait till the unit level data is released and a better poverty line is constructed based on the new consumption basket," says Basole.
